BIG BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Japanese Are Advancing on Mukden With at Least Eight Divisions.

FORTRESS ATTACKED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Sept. 20.—A battle is imminent. The Japanese are advancing with eight, and possibly nine divisions.

The crops of tall millet have nearly all been harvested, affording a better field over which to fire on the flat plains. The river Hun is the direct front of the Russian army.

SIN-MIN-TIN, Sept. 21.—Fierce fighting is reported between this place and Mukden. The Japanese forces under Gen. Oku have begun to close in on the Russian lines. Many Japanese have come up the Liao river from Niu-Chwang in boats, and, landing a short distance below this place on the east bank of the river, have gone to reinforce Oku's column. The Cossacks under Samsonoff have been driven back, and now the Russian infantry is engaged.

The Japanese are well to the north of the main road between Sin-Min-Tin and Mukden and appear to be endeavoring to force their way to the railroad north of the Russian position. Oku's column is estimated to be not less than 60,000 men.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 21.—Interest is again concentrated upon Port Arthur, owing to the receipt from foreign sources of news that a general storming of the fortifications there has begun. A few belated telegrams from Gen. Stoessel, published Tuesday afternoon, recording the repulse of the Japanese, strengthen confidence in the ability of the defenders to hold out, despite the furious onslaughts being made on them.

The last attack mentioned by Gen. Stoessel took place the night of Sept. 14. It was directed against redoubt No. 8, which protects the water supply of the city. The redoubt is about two miles beyond the line of permanent forts, and the attack upon this shows that the Japanese were not then within striking distance of the main fortress.

The telegrams brought to Chefoo by Prince Radziwill have not yet reached the war office. It is understood these dispatches contain details of the landing of strong Japanese reinforcements at Dalny.

The sensational announcement that Gen. Kuroki had crossed the Hun river unopposed and that the whole Japanese army is advancing on Mukden is overshadowed by anxiety for Port Arthur. Moreover, the announcement relative to Kuroki does not receive complete credence here, as being in direct contradiction of official news issued by the general staff. Gen. Kuropatkin announced only two days ago that there was not a single Japanese east of Bentsiaputze. How, it is asked, could Gen. Kuroki, with 100,000 men, slip past Gen. Rennenkampff's Cossacks and cross the Hun river near the Fushan coal mines, 30 miles east of Mukden?

Fushan is situated on the road from Bentsiaputze, where Gen. Kuroki crossed the Taitse river. This road is carefully watched by Gen. Kuropatkin's outposts between Mukden and Sin-Min-Tin. A strong guard has been placed at the Fushan mines, which Gen. Kuropatkin will not give up without a struggle, as the loss of the mines would involve the cutting off of the coal supply for the whole of the Manchurian railway.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20.—The general attack on Port Arthur which began yesterday, and in which the Japanese fleet is co-operating, was resumed this morning. The Japanese captured two important forts on either side of Sueiszeying, north of Port Arthur.

CHEFOO, Sept. 20.—Authoritative information has been received here of a general attack upon Port Arthur by the Japanese forces, which began yesterday before daybreak and continued until dark.

Smith Whaley, the financial supporter of several cotton manufacturing enterprises in the south, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court today. His total liabilities are $1,114,125. The secured claims amount to $1,087,951. Mr. Whaley states that his assets are $1,200. There are 91 creditors. The individual claims range from $500 to $175,000.

Clearfield and Clinton Instruct for Irvine.

CLEARFIELD, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention today unanimously voted instructions for Col. E. Z. Irvine of Curwensville for senator, to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Patton's death. He was also nominated by acclamation by the Clinton county convention at Lock Haven.

HIS LIFE AT STAKE ON GAME OF CARDS

Infatuated Lover Lost, and Straightway Killed Himself. Was Son of a Preacher.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SEDALIA, MO., Sept. 20.—Charles E. Bliss staked his life last night on a game of cards and lost. He paid the bet a few minutes later by committing suicide.

Bliss, who was known here as Charles E. Barlow, was 26 years old, the son of a Seventh Day Adventist preacher. Shortly before midnight he called on "Ted" Moore, with whom he had become infatuated, and she challenged him to play a game of pitch. They sat down to a table when the woman asked, "What will we play for?"

"I'll stake my life against your," replied Bliss.

"Ted" accepted the challenge and the cards were dealt. In a few minutes Bliss' pile of chips had disappeared. He had lost.

Bliss put on his hat, and with a cheerful good-by left the woman's apartments, going direct to a drug store, where he purchased a bottle of carbolic acid and drank it. He died before a physician could reach his side.

BLUE LIGHT IS FOUND TO BE AN ANESTHETIC

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—After three years of patient research, two professors of Geneva, Switzerland, have discovered a new anesthetic which promises to revolutionize the practice of dentistry.

In reporting this to the state department, Consul Liefeld at Frieburg, Germany, states that finding that the nervous system was influenced by colored light the professors soon perceived, after experimenting with each hue, that blue had an extraordinarily soothing effect on the nerves.

The consul says that a tooth may be painlessly extracted with none of the after effects on the system by shutting up the patient in a dark room and exposing his eyes to a blue light of 16-candle power for three minutes, causing him to lose all sense of pain, although at the same time retaining his senses.

BARRETT IS SUPPORTED BY OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON

They Order All Transactions Regarding Canal Zone Must Occur in His Presence.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
(Copyright, 1904, by New York Herald Co.)

PANAMA, Sept. 20.—Reports cabled from Washington regarding friction between Minister Barrett, Admiral Walker and Gov. Davis, are categorically denied by Barrett, who says his personal and official relations with all the members of the canal commission are most cordial, although there may have been slight differences of opinion as to the different policies to be pursued.

It has developed that the Panama government recently received official advices from Washington stating that the state and war departments have instructed their official representatives here that all future negotiations of a diplomatic character between Panama and the canal zone must be conducted through, or in the presence of, the American minister. This appears in line with the wishes of the Panama government, but not according to the desires of Admiral Walker.

WOMEN MAKE DEATH BED OF A RAILROAD TRACK

BUCYRUS, O., Sept. 20.—The bodies of Mary and Lizzie Kehrer, who lived on a small farm near here, were found this morning on the Ohio Central railroad. The women wrapped themselves in a bedspread and laid down on the track last night and were killed by a passenger train. They had frequently declared that they were tired of the struggle for life and wanted to die.

BET TEN TO FOUR ON ROOSEVELT'S ELECTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—On the Broad street curb today William G. Gallagher bet J. J. Judge $100 to $40 that Roosevelt will be elected. These are the greatest odds given yet in Wall street on Roosevelt since the campaign began. In big bets the odds continue to rule at 2 to 1 on Roosevelt.

CORBIN FROWNS ON MARRIAGES

General Says Few Army Officers Can Support Families.

HE FAVORS CANTEEN

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.

In his annual report as commander of the Atlantic division and department of the east Maj.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin advocates that the marriage of army officers depend upon the consent of the war department. He also strongly advocates the re-establishment of the canteen. He would reward soldiers for staying with the army and stop attempts at punishment for leaving it.

What Gen. Corbin says of subaltern officers (officers below the rank of captain) and their means cover a condition well understood here, where all subalterns are understood to be heavily in debt unless possessed of private means, and many captains are known to continue their struggle under the burdens of their junior days clear through to staff rank. In dealing with the marriage question Gen. Corbin's language is as follows:

"Marriage of army officers who have made no proper provision for assuming the responsibility therefor is hurtful both to the army and to the officers themselves. To this broad statement there are, of course, exceptions, but the general fact remains that our army is over-married. The pay of a subaltern officer is barely enough for his proper support and the expenses of his equipment and uniform. If to this is added the inevitable expenses attached to a family it is not only probable, but almost certain that when an officer strikes his balance at the end of the year he will be behind if he has no income but his pay.

Should Have No Debts.

"I am firmly of the opinion that no officer should enter the marriage relation without first getting the authority of the war department, and that as a necessary condition thereto that his income after marriage will be sufficient to support himself and family, and, above all, if he is to live on his pay, he should state on honor that he is free from debt."

Gen. Corbin on the re-establishment of the canteen says:

"If it were possible by my act to absolutely stop the manufacture and use of intoxicating drinks of any kind I would do so, if it were possible by my act to prevent the use by any person in the military service of intoxicating drinks I would do so; but, realizing that the impossible, however desirable, must give way to what is possible and practicable. I am firmly of the opinion that it would be in the interest of discipline to re-establish the canteen feature of the post exchange, recognizing that in this way the use of drink can be minimized."

Articles of War Obsolete.

Gen. Corbin quotes his departmental judge advocate approvingly as saying: "The present articles of war, it is well recognized, are, in part, obsolete or disregarded, in part obscure, in part inconsistent, and in origin un-American." Officers who have no legal training are not qualified to interpret them in courts-martial, it is pointed out. Gen. Corbin urges the adoption of a simple army code.

To solve the "difficult problem" of recruits Gen. Corbin would have each regiment attached to a locality in which one battalion would always remain recruiting. This is the English and European plan known as the territorial system. It would produce one or two Ohio regiments, others from Pennsylvania or possibly a New York city, Cleveland and Pittsburgh regiment in the regular army. The present uniform for enlisted men, Gen. Corbin says, is "superior to that of any other army, and is better in every way than any army ever had."

L. W. STRAYER.

DICK MAY BE ASKED TO SETTLE HOOP MILL STRIKE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The strike here may be brought to the attention of Senator Dick, and he may be asked to take a hand in the settlement as the result of a meeting between President Shaffer and John F. Ward, inspector of factories and buildings; George A. Pate, inspector of the United States rural mail delivery, and other local politicians. The men are confident Senator Dick will take up the proposition. President Shaffer's health has improved, and he will make a speech at a meeting of the men in Girard tomorrow afternoon.

CALLED ROLL OF VICTORY

Glowing Forecasts by Leaders Are Made to State Committee.

NOTE OF WARNING SOUNDED

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 20.

What Pennsylvania will do for the Republican national, congressional, senatorial, legislative and county tickets was told today by the members of the Republican state committee, at its annual meeting. The attendance was unusually large. Chairman Penrose presided. Reports were given by leaders of the congressional and senatorial districts, and if the predictions made by them are sustained at the November elections, Roosevelt and Fairbanks will have in the Keystone state a majority never equaled.

The reports made by the congressional and county leaders were exceedingly roseate, and exceptionally optimistic. This was tempered, however, just prior to the adjournment, by an address made by the veteran Philadelphia leader, David H. Lane, who gave some practical and valuable advice to the organization leaders.

"Indolence born of a sense of security," said Mr. Lane, "is the greatest danger which we have to confront at this time. The reports I have listened to today are exceedingly gratifying; they contain no thought of uncertainty as regards the general result, and build success at every critical point where danger is threatened. Successes are not won in battle, but in moral effects. This was shown by the efforts made by our national leaders in the Republican strongholds, Vermont and Maine. There was no doubt that these states would give a Republican majority.

Atmosphere of Enthusiasm.

"It was an increased majority that was necessary, for its moral effect on the states which voted later. Pennsylvania—always sure, always safe, the banner majority state, the strongest advocate of the principle of protection—is also morally pivotal, and it must be kept at the forefront in the interest of protection and prosperity."

There were other notable addresses, brief, but forceful, which gave an enthusiastic atmosphere to today's meeting. Chairman Penrose, after the vacancies in the electoral ticket had been filled, introduced ex-Attorney General John P. Elkin, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court. Senator Penrose was very happy in his remarks, announcing that Mr. Elkin was a man who did not need to be introduced to the active Republicans of the state; that he was one who had always been on the "firing line" and who would receive in November the largest majority ever received in the history of the commonwealth by a candidate of the Republican party.

In response Gen. Elkin thanked the chairman and members of the committee for the opportunity given him. He said it was always a privilege and a pleasure to meet his fellow Republicans on occasions of this character. His association with the state organization, he said, had always been pleasant. The Republican organization of Pennsylvania has long been an inspiration to the Republicans of the nation from Maine to California. He said that he was like the old soldier, who was always thrilled by the bugle call of duty, and that like the old soldier, he liked to fight with the boys behind the guns.

The presidential issue is practically settled, he said, and in November Roosevelt and Fairbanks will receive the greatest majority ever received by candidates on the national ticket. He declared he had no doubt the aggressiveness of the Republicans would sweep every Republican state that was carried in 1900 for McKinley.

Electoral Vacancies Filled.

The actual business of the meeting consisted in filling four vacancies on the electoral ticket and hearing the reports of congressional and senatorial leaders. The vacancies on the electoral ticket filled were: First district, George J. Elliott, vice Daniel Baugh; Third district, Robert C. H. Brock, vice Alexander Van Rensselaer; Fifth district, Kennedy Crossans, vice David C. Nimlet; Thirtieth district, Allegheny county, Maj. A. P. Burchfield, vice George Westinghouse. George T. Oliver nominated Maj. Burchfield, and the Philadelphia members were named by the district leaders. There were no other nominations, and the secretary was instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the committee.

Chairman Penrose directed a roll call of the congressional districts by Secretary Wesley R. Andrews, in order that reports of present conditions might be heard by the committee. Gratifying responses were received from every county and dis-

POLL OF THE VOTES SHOWS REPUBLICAN GAIN

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Sentiment of the west is overwhelmingly Republican, according to preliminary reports from state polls which have been going on all over the country for a month. This announcement was made today by managers at the national Republican headquarters. The reports also show that the minds of the voters are already made up to an unusual degree. Chairman Roy O. West of the state committee ascribed this to the fact that labor unions and similar organizations and the free rural mail delivery have done much to educate the people in the last four years.

While the Republican managers are inclined to view the political situation with confidence, they say that there may be a whirlwind campaign in October.

"The sentiment in favor of President Roosevelt and a continuance of Republican policies is evident," said Chairman West today. "The real work of the campaign will come when we get to the point where the vote must be gotten out. We feel confident because we are fighting all along the line, overlooking no opportunities, and we believe we will come as near getting out our vote as anybody."

At the national headquarters today W. R. Hobbs, chairman of the state committee of Kansas, reported that half of the canvass of that state has been completed and said the returns showed that Roosevelt would beat the McKinley majority of 23,000 in 1900. The returns show a substantial gain.

RUSSO-GERMAN TREATY.

Attributed to Part These Nations Played in Breaking Japan's Agreement With China.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.—The existence of a secret treaty between Russia and Germany is attributed here to the memory of the part which Germany, with France and Russia, played in compelling Japan to abandon the Shimonoseki treaty, concluded between Japan and China 10 years ago.

The Novoe Vermya this morning, in a sarcastic editorial, expresses surprise at the fact that the British newspaper correspondents have been so slow in discovering that Germany is helping Russia, adding: "Both Great Britain and the United States ought to follow the example of Germany, which realized at the outset the identity of her interests in the far east with those of Russia."

MADE A QUIET TACKLE.

Bennett, Pennsy's Last Season's Halfback, Announces News of His Secret Marriage.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Michael S. Bennett, who was halfback on the University of Pennsylvania football team last season, has surprised his many friends by announcing that for nearly a year he has been a benedict. It was immediately after Pennsylvania's game with Columbia last year that the wedding took place.

Two years ago Bennett and Miss Lucy Stump of 3717 Spruce street met for the first time. After that Miss Stump was present at every game in which Bennett played. They went to New York last fall after the game with Columbia, and in the Little Church Around the Corner were married.

HOUNDS TRAIL ROBBERS.

Postoffice Thieves Pursued by Angry Posse in Ohio.

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. VA., Sept. 20—Pursued by angry citizens and bloodhounds, burglars today escaped to the hills of Monroe county, O., after robbing the safe in the postoffice in Woodsfield of $1,000.

The robbers to get at the safe were compelled to break down three doors. The combination of the safe was worked, and after taking the booty they escaped.

Pittsburgh Masons Present.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—At the 92nd council meeting of the 33rd degree Masons of the northern jurisdiction today George B. Oriady of Huntingdon, Pa., was one of the candidates raised. Deputies James I. Buchanan and George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh were present.

A HORSE SHOW EVERY YEAR

FORM ASSOCIATION

An annual horse show with all the traditional fostering of society has been assured for Greater Pittsburgh. The success of the fine exhibition of horseflesh on the summer estate of W. W. Willock, on Sewickley heights, yesterday afternoon, signalized the organization of the Sewickley Heights Horse Show association, and plans are being made to make the show a yearly affair. The association will take a piece of land on the heights, build an improved ring, paddocks and a grandstand, and will invite all owners of valuable horses in the vicinity to participate in the exhibition. The blue ribbons from Sewickley heights will be prized trophies for Pittsburgh turnouts.

The resolution to have an annual horse show was the most effectual result of yesterday's event. On the previous night the associaton was formed and Mr. Willock was elected president. While at dinner last night in the Allegheny Country club some of the details were discussed, and it will not be ong until the association will be ready to begin the work of improvements for next year. A larger show ring will be constructed, and the number of entries will be proportionately as large as that of any of the cities which have boasted for years of their devout homage to the horse.

Ring Was Picturesque.

"It is remarkable that a community as small as Sewickley could make such a splendid showing," said Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland, O., who was one of the judges of yesterday's events. "No suburb in the country can boast of so many fine equipages. Sewickley compares very favorably with Cleveland. When an organization is formed and Pittsburgh takes up the work with characteristic Pittsburgh perseverance and enthusiasm, this will be one of the finest horse shows in the country, and doubtless many New Yorkers will be glad to come here and witness the exhibitions. Every horse lover in the country will congratulate the people of Sewickley. This has really been a great day for the horse."

A disagreeable breeze and lowering clouds did not augur a pleasant day for the show when the events began at noon, but, in spite of this, over 500 people saw the exhibition. Women in gowns of dazzling beauty ignored the threatening weather and sat in the open air throughout the afternoon. Some scorned a seat under the frame shelter and stood close to the ring, where they cheered their favorites and watched the awarding of the ribbons.

"Gladmore Farm," Mr. Willock's residence, is ideally situated for an event such as that which attracted scores of the local 400 to its broad meadows yesterday afternoon. The show ring was laid out on the summit of a high hill, overlooking the broad valley of the Ohio on the south, and the picturesque manor houses of "Jonesville" on the north. Burr MacIntosh, whose latest hobby is horse shows, came on from New York to rekindle his inspiration by association with the Pittsburgh horse.

Tribute to Mr. Willock.

"A wonderful change has been wrought here since I made Pittsburgh my home," said Mr. MacIntosh. "Pittsburgh is taking on more and more in metropolitan airs, but I have been agreeably surprised with the excellent little show which has been organized here. There is no question as to its success in the future."

Green and yellow, the colors of the Gladmore ring, were everywhere displayed, the pennants on the grandstand and upon the field posts flaunting the colors triumphantly along the green ridge. The American Military band, seated away some distance under a tree, played stirring music. The wind, however, blew the other way and the herald's bugle furnished about the only music that was heard by the occupants of the grandstand.

While the judges were making their decisions in the closing event W. J. Patton stepped to the center of the ring, and, holding up a magnificent silver loving cup, announced that the residents of the valley and the members of the Sewickley Heights Horse Show association offered the cup to W. W. Willock as a tribute to his untiring efforts toward organizing the association and in giving Sewickley the gala event which would be instrumental in reuniting all the horsemen of Pittsburgh.

There were no accidents, but this good fortune was not due to any lack of spirit in the horses or to any timidity on the part of the riders. High hurdles were broken one pony ran away and threw its rider and a team got the best of a coachman, but rescuers were on hand each time to prevent serious consequences. The judges were D. R. Hanna of Cleveland, Samuel W. Taylor of New York and H. N. Van Voorhis, W. N. Kerr, D. C. Byers and W. D. Henry of Pittsburgh. The schedule of awards follows:

Four-in-hands—First, Jasper, Navajo, Shadeland Mary and Shadeland Cherry, by A. R. Hamilton; second, Klondyke, Musketeer, Skylark and Robin, by H. R. Rea; third, Iron Boy, Lester Hill, Belmont and Grey Eagle, by W. W. Willock; fourth, Earls Abbott, Norwood. Second Mrs. Tanquery and Virginia, by B. F. Jones, Jr.

Harness horses—First, Bob and Dewey, Mrs. B. F. Jones; second, Peacock and High Ball, Mrs. W. P. Snyder; third, Duchess and High Life, W. P. Snyder; fourth, Troubadour and Coquette, Mrs. A. M. Byers.

An exhibition of W. D. Henry's imported horses was a feature of the afternoon's events. None of Mr. Henry's stable was entered, but the horses were cheered while they were trotted around the ring.

THE WOMEN HAD A GAY TIME AT GLADMORE FARM

Wore Their Prettiest Gowns, Looked Their Handsomest and Were in Raptures Over the Horses.

The presence of many women, some only as exhibitors and others handling the ribbons themselves, added in a very large measure to the social interest in the horse show yesterday at "Gladmore" farm. The ring with the judges' stand in its center, occupied a knoll on the country place of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Willock and from the grand stand could be seen the cluster of summer homes of the children of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones, while farther away were the acres of the Allegheny Country club, "As You Like It," Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.'s fine summer home, and the country places of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Scaife, James A. Chambers, the Russell H. Boggs, the William P. Snyders and the others who compose the summer colony in Sewickley Heights. It was a beautiful setting for the animated scene. Happily the coloring was almost wholly green and white, the darker tones of the mannish garments sinking into the background and leaving conspicuous the dainty white costumes of the women against the rich green trees and lawns.

It was a very neighborly group of women who filled the grand stand, which only seated 60 people. There were to be seen only a few women who had gone down from the city for the day, those at the horse show being almost entirely from the Sewickley Heights colony. Mrs. Willock was a gracious hostess. Beside her sat Mrs. Dan R. Hanna, who arrived in Sewickley yesterday morning with her husband. They will remain until today as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willock. Last evening they were all Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr.'s, guests at dinner at the Allegheny Country club.

Some Who Went Down from the City.

Mrs. Alexander was there between Mrs. William J. Holland and Mrs. Louis J. Dalzell, both of whom came back to the city after the show was over. Mrs. Charles C. Scaife, with her daughter, Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr., and Mrs. Charles E. Speer, Jr., and the latter's little son, Master Thomas Mifflin Jones, occupied seats in the grand stand with Mrs. J. Walter Rhodes and her mother, Mrs. Barbour of Detroit, and Miss Mary Rhodes.

With Mrs. James Harold Childs was Miss Martha Dalzell, who, with Clinton L. Childs and John N. Trainer, composed a small house party Mr. and Mrs. Childs entertained over the event. With Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., was Mrs. William L. Jones, while Mrs. William P. Snyder had with her Mrs. James B. Laughlin and her little daughter, Alice Laughlin; Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Pauline Dilworth and Miss Bessie L. Wood. Mrs. Elizabeth Horne, Mrs. Eugene L. Messler, Miss Marion Chambers and Miss Marguerite Singer were also in the grand stand. During the greater part of the afternoon Miss Stella Hays and Miss Isabel Pontefract were holding court on the bleachers just adjoining the grand stand, where were also Mrs. John G. Bennett and her daughters that they might see better the horses as they entered the ring.

During the latter events a group of young women leaned upon the railing surrounding the ring, who in their riding habits were in striking contrast to the daintily-gowned women in the grand stand, the younger women there all wearing light airy summer gowns and large white baby hats with long stemmed roses thrust through exquisite lace.

Divided Skirts Were in Evidence.

In the group at the rail were Miss Madelaine Laughlin in a pretty trim habit of dust-color linen and black sailor hat; Mrs. Henry L. Collins in a white duck habit and rakish straw hat; Miss Blanche Harper, entirely black, and Miss Winnifred Jones in black with a black sailor bound with black and white. There was also a group of the very young girls, who had appeared riding and driving the pony classes, whose costumes were noticeable as showing the adoption in Pittsburgh of a western custom of wearing the divided skirts, custom which is not yet very prevalent in the east.

Miss Winnifred Jones rode Mrs. Henry R. Rea's "Blue Boy," which captured the blue ribbon in Class 5, saddle horses. The women, with the exception of Mrs. William P. Snyder, who drove her own exhibit in the next to the last class shown, that of harness horses in pairs, appeared in the ring early in the afternoon. When the ladies' hunters were called Mrs. Henry L. Collins, a member of the Harkaway club and of the Pittsburgh Hunt club, appeared upon her own hunter, "Countess." Miss Susan Shields Williams rode "Freckles;" Miss Blanche Harper was mounted upon one of F. M. Lowry's horses and Miss Bessie L. Wood was on "Topsy." As some of the women riders are well known for their fearlessness in the saddle, and as the event was one of the prettiest of the afternoon, there was a tumult of applause not equalled during the show, save when the Hon. Walter Lyon carried his hunter over the hurdles to the delight and the relief of his friends.

Pony Class Made a Pretty Sight.

There was no prettier sight during the show than the pony class, when the sturdy little creatures entered the ring mounted or driven by their small owners. They scented excitement from the first, and no one could play to the gallery more than they and win such instant applause. So enthusiastic over the saddle class were the judges and spectators alike, that a ribbon was awarded to every pony. There were seven entries, and after awarding the blue, red and yellow ribbons, the judges found it in their hearts to give white ribbons to all the others. Miss Bessie L. Wood won the yellow ribbon for her "Topsy" in this class.

At the close of the afternoon, when the people were entering their carriages and speeding toward their homes or the Sewickley station, there was a rush followed by a cloud of dust, and speedily outdistancing the bigger horses on the road was Miss Woods' diminutive "Topsy," drawing a basket phaeton in which was seated a colored groom flourishing his whip tied with an immense yellow bow.

In Class 4, ponies in harness, Miss Marion Louise Allison's "Bootle Sportsman" captured the blue ribbon, Frederick and Allan Scaife's "Archie" winning the red, while "Captain Jinks," driven by Miss Adelaide D. Jones, won the yellow and Franklin J. Willock's "Hazeldean Major, Jr.," was awarded the white ribbon.

The rain kept off throughout the afternoon, but the clouds were gathering thickly when the last event was over and traps and carriages were turned toward home.

As a crowning event to the day was the gathering of small informal dinner parties at the Allegheny Country club. Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., was hostess to a somewhat larger number of friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Hanna. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holden Binns gave a small dinner at the club, while the other parties were small informal groups of friends, chiefly the members of the Country club.

BOYCE CHANGED HIS MIND.

First Made Gambling Charges Against Two First Warders and Then Withdrew Them.

Several days ago, when his attention was called to it, Director Moore said he would order an investigation by the police to ascertain if it was true that gambling houses had been opened in the downtown district, particularly in the First ward, where a number are said to have been opened while the director was enjoying a month's vacation in Michigan. Inspector Kennelly was appointed to this task and is quoted as saying that there is not a gambling house downtown. Now here is a tip for Director Moore.

J. D. Boyce, connected with the East End Mantel and Tile Company, made an information before Alderman Negley yesterday, charging Peter Joyce and "Buck" Cornelius with keeping a gambling house in Market street, near Second avenue. Boyce alleged he was in the house conducted by Cornelius and Joyce, that a dispute arose over a bet of $14, and that he was ejected from the place. Boyce later went before the alderman and withdrew the suit.

NO CRUCIBLE STATEMENT.

Directors Meet, but Expected Document Is Withheld for a Few Days Longer.

Directors of the Crucible Steel Company of America heard and approved yesterday a report to the stockholders prepared by Chairman W. G. Park of the Crucible board, covering the Clairton deal and other incidents of the company's career.

Secretary Alexander Thomas of the company said after the meeting this statement would be made public in a few days. Just when had not been decided. Friday was mentioned, unofficially, as the date set. The statement is preliminary to the annual meeting and is intended as the management's presentation of its side of disputed matters.

At yesterday's meeting the subject of the company's annual report was also taken up, but not in its entirety. There will be another directors' meeting before the annual meeting is held next month.

SPARR APPOINTED.

He Will Succeed Henry Eynon, an Alderman of the Thirteenth Ward.

Emil Sparr was yesterday appointed alderman for the Thirteenth ward by Gov. Pennypacker. He succeeds Henry Eynon, who resigned.

News of Sparr's appointment was given out during the afternoon. The friends of J. W. Neff, who was a candidate for the place, were last night of the opinion that their man had been named, claiming to have a telegram from Harrisburg announcing his selection. The Gazette correspondent at the state capital was requested to make an investigation. At midnight he telegraphed The Gazette that Sparr had been appointed.

Tibbles Sends His Letter.

LINCOLN, NEB., Sept. 20.—Thomas H. Tibbles, nominee of the Peoples party for vice president, mailed his letter of acceptance today to the Hon. S. W. Williams, chairman of the notification committee.

A New Hotel and Sanatorium.

The new Highland Hotel Company (Incorporated) of Cambridge Springs, Crawford county, Pa., with a capital stock of $200,000. The company was organized September 16, A. D. 1904. The following officers were elected: President, T. Wilson Haws; vice president, John George Hiller; secretary, E. C. Blackstone; treasurer, Gotlieb Anger. The new company starts off with a boom, having over two-thirds of its capital stock already subscribed. They expect now to break ground some time during October. The new building will be modern in every respect—steel frame and cement blocks—thus making it fireproof throughout, and will contain 150 rooms. It is the intention of the management to conduct a first-class, up-to-date hotel and sanatorium in all of its respective branches.

trict. Among those who responded were the following:

Roll Call of Victory.

E. B. Penrose—Bucks will do as well as last year. We will want nothing better.

L. M. Meyers—While we have a little dissatisfaction in Lancaster, we have no fear of the result. Of the 22,000 Republicans in our county, fully 19,000 will vote the entire Republican ticket. Lancaster is the best governed city in the state, and under the leadership of W. W. Griest the Republican organization is invincible.

E. L. Reinhold—There is a sprinkling of independent voters in Lancaster, but their ticket will not poll over 2,000 votes. Every Republican candidate in Lancaster will be elected, and the old guard will give a grand majority for President Roosevelt.

H. J. Meyers—Northampton Republicans have an excellent chance of winning their congressman. The indications are that there will be an independent candidate for congress in the district. With proper support we should be able to elect a Republican for congressman from this normally Democratic district.

Fred B. Smith—Tioga county is in very good shape, and we will poll a bigger Republican vote than ever before.

McKean's Splendid Showing.

N. M. Orr—McKean's Republican majority will exceed 4,000. Every Republican is for the ticket, and we hope to raise the figures to $5,000. Congressman Dresser will make a splendid showing. All the experiments on the part of the Democrats to get independent votes have ceased.

Representative James R. Ritter—Despite our troubles there is no question but that Union county will be solidly for the full Republican ticket.

C. B. Witmer—Northumberlond county, although usually Democratic, will give 1,500 majority for Roosevelt. Our candidate for state senator will carry the district by 2,000 majority.

J. G. Clessner—Never were the Republicans of York county so united and never were the Democrats so hopelessly disrupted and divided. Two years ago we elected Congressman Lafean by a small majority. This year we will elect him by a large majority, and we will elect our candidates for the legislature and for county offices.

G. C. Schring, Schuykill—We will give a Republican majority not because Roosevelt is our candidate for president, nor because Gen. Elkin is our candidate for associate justice nor because Penrose is our state chairman. Schuykill county is going Republican because the seed has been sown and it is no longer Democratic. We will give 2,000 or 3,000 majority for Roosevelt and the Republican ticket, or this ain't your Dutch postmaster from Pottsville. (Enthusiastic applause.)

Juniata County Is Safe.

W. L. Hoopes—Juniata county, formerly Democratic, recently Republican by a small majority, will this year give the largest Republican majority in her history.

Jacob Weiner—Cumberland county will go Republican for the national and state ticket and for every member of the legislature without a doubt.

I. N. Swope—The organization in Huntingdon county is in good shape. It is to be regretted that an unfortunate deadlock exists, which is creating trouble. I fear that if it is not settled before September 27 it will mean a Democratic senator from this district. This is very much to be regretted.

A. L. Merrill—Clinton is the closest county in this state, but we usually carry it on presidential years. We have no doubt that it will go for Roosevelt this fall.

John Gowland—The Democrats in Centre county concede us one member of the legislature. We will try to elect two. The biggest fight is on the judgeship. Judge Love is our candidate, and we ought to elect him.

Herman Speck—Cambria county will give the largest Republican majority for the candidate for president in her history. We also expect to wipe the rest of the Democratic ticket off the earth.

Bedford Will Win Out.

H. B. Cessna, Bedford—We will elect a Republican candidate for congress. The so-called disaffection among Republicans is much more than offset by the dissatisfaction in the Democratic party with their nominee.

Thomas S. Crago—Greene county is naturally Democratic. Many of our Democrats when asked how they are going to vote reply that they are for Parker and Davis, but add that they hope the other fellows will win. We have been for a long time praying for the Wabash railroad and prosperity. We now have both.

Maj. A. A. Clearwater—Although Elk is Democratic, we confidently expect to lower the majority.

Senator W. A. Magee of Allegheny—As everyone knows, we have had factional warfare in Allegheny county for three or four years. Happily, this condition of affairs has never affected national or state politics. In 1896 McKinley's majority was about 45,000. In 1900 it was about 47,000. Mr. Ford, our able county chairman, now predicts that Roosevelt's majority will be 60,000. His prediction, in my opinion, is nearer correct than would be the figures of four years ago.

Record-Breaker Promised.

J. W. Clark—Washington county will give a record-breaking Republican majority.

Alexander T. Connell—Lackawanna is always a doubtful district; it has been so for 20 years, but this time we will carry it for the whole Republican ticket. We have a Republican club in every ward in the city of Scranton.

Thomas W. Templeton—Luzerne is frequently off the track, but this year I think it will be all right.

William Mitchell—The Republicans of Pike county are pledged to keep the Democratic majority as low as possible.

Among other very gratifying reports were those received from Butler, which promised to add 200 to the normal Republican majority of 100; Westmoreland, the usual result, despite formidable opposition; Crawford county, at least 2,500 majority; Armstrong, "the usual Republican majority;" Mercer, to elect the entire Republican ticket, including a candidate for judge, by good majorities; Blair, to swell the biggest Republican majority to date; Fulton and Clarion, to cut down the Democratic majorities; Jefferson, party in excellent shape; Carbon, will elect full Republican ticket; Wyoming, outlook excellent for Republican victory; Perry, is very hopeful; Dauphin, united for the entire ticket.

Sheriff James L. Miles, chairman of the Republican city committee, was called upon by Chairman Penrose. He extended a cordial welcome to the visiting committeemen, and then said:

"Republican organization of Philadelphia is not only active but is aggressive. When the Democrats at St. Louis declared 'protection is robbery,' they certainly aroused the people of this city, and I have no doubt, those of the whole nation. The rank and file of the Republican organization of Philadelphia is in fighting trim and the voters of the city are rallying to the support of the principle of protection, which has made the state strong, prosperous and rich. Philadelphia will give the candidates on the Republican ticket upwards of 100,000 majority."

Chairman Penrose, in conclusion, thanked the committee for its full attendance. He said that the reports received at headquarters indicated beyond doubt that the Republican majority in November will be the largest ever polled in the history of the Keystone state.

Robert McAfee, banking commissioner, after the adjournment of the state committee, when asked about the Allegheny county prediction, said:

"Everyone seems to be anxious for Republican success this fall, and I believe that Chairman Ford's forecast of 80,000 majority is quite safe. It is certain that Roosevelt and Fairbanks will carry Allegheny county by a margin materially above 50,000. CHESTER D. POTTER.

M'Clane Named for Governor.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 20.—John McLane of Milford was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention here today and the following candidates for presidential electors were chosen: Former Governor Frank W. Rollins of Concord, Gen. Charles S. Collins of Nashua, Albert Batchelder of North Hampton and Herman F. Straw of Manchester. The platform praised the achievements of the national party.

HILL'S HEEL IS UPON TAMMANY

Looks Like Grout at Saratoga, Though Democrats Are Terribly Tangled.

NO CHANCE FOR HARMONY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The situation among the Democratic leaders is in as much of a tangle tonight as it was yesterday. There have been conferences galore, but no harmony of action has yet developed. McCarren is still working hard for Controller Grout for governor, and Hill seems inclined in his favor. It is even stated tonight that he has a majority of the delegates. Charles F. Murphy threw a bomb into the camp of the opposition today by starting a boom for Chairman Hornblower, Hill's ancient enemy, but it is not likely to develop anything serious. Tammany's one demand is that Grout be not nominated, but that will make no difference if Hill decides to push the controller to the front.

There were practically no developments today that will have an influence on the votes of the delegates. The battle of the factions continues, and it is likely to continue, even when the convention adjourns and the effect will be felt at the polls in November. If Grout is nominated it will have a serious effect on the vote in Manhattan, and it is there that the votes must come from to elect the Democratic candidate. There is still talk of a compromise, but he is a wise forecaster who can see even a few hours in the future under such conditions as obtain here.

The Hill slate is as follows: Governor, Edward M. Grout; lieutenant governor, George M. Palmer; secretary of state, John Pallace; controller, George Hall; attorney general, C. H. Sulzer; chief judge of the court of appeals, Judge Edgar M. Cullen; associate judge of the court of appeals, John Cuneen.

It was evident at midnight that the supporters of other candidates were making a desperate effort to combine against Grout. At midnight the slate is being telephoned to Judge Parker at Esopus for his "O. K." or "N. G." mark and he is now passing on it. Charles F. Murphy of Tammany is also deciding which he will accept or fight.

The convention, after forming a temporary organization today, adjourned till tomorrow.

WALLACE DOESN'T WANT IT.

Has No Desire to Fill the Shoes of Director Harry Moore.

Acting Superintendent of Police Wallace returned from his vacation yesterday and resumed his duties at the head of the police department. After spending two weeks in Michigan he said he was ready to wrestle with the criminals again. In reference to the possibilities of Mayor Hays promoting him to be director of the department of public safety to succeed Harry Moore, he said:

"I know nothing of such a change. Mayor Hays has never spoken of the matter to me. In my mind Director Moore is the man for the position, and as a matter of fact I don't want the place."

MRS. SIMPSON TESTIFIES IN HER OWN DEFENSE

Declares There Was a Code of Signals Between Her Husband and Minnie Friedline.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOMERSET, Sept. 20.—This morning the trial of Carrie Ann Simpson for the murder of Minnie Friedline, on February 22, began here. The commonwealth is represented by District Attorney R. E. Meyers, F. W. Biesecker and Koontz & Ogle and Coffroth & Ruppel are counsel for the defense. Attorney Biesecker stated the case for the commonwealth. Taking of testimony then began. Isaac P. Friedline, father of the dead girl, stated she was 23 years old, postmistress at Boswell, Pa., and was shot by Mrs. Simpson. Andrew Bittner, a deputy sheriff, said he had seen the prisoner shoot Miss Friedline. The pistol was identified. Several corroborative witnesses testified.

William H. Ruppel made the statement for the defense, and said it would be shown there was insanity on both sides of the defendant's family and Miss Friedline had enraged the prisoner and made her jealous at every opportunity. Mrs. Simpson testified she had lived unhappily with her husband. About four weeks before the shooting she found her husband with Miss Friedline and slapped her.

She said there was a code of signals between her husband and Miss Friedline and her husband told her he could not help it if Minnie flirted with him. On the fatal morning she had taken a revolver and started up town to hand it to the Merchants Coal Company, when she met Miss Friedline and suddenly lost control of herself. She remembered nothing of the shooting, except her arrest. She supposed the gun was the property of the coal company. Court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Fire Destroys Homestead House.

Fire destroyed the home of William Miller in Seventh avenue, West Homestead, shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. The loss on the house, which was a frame structure, and contents is estimated at $2,000. The house was owned by Miller and the origin of the fire is not known. The family escaped without injury. The fire company of Homestead was called and saved the adjoining property.

Got Only Light Fines.

Justice Stevenson of Coraopolis yesterday fined George Lynch, William Ellis, Patrick Cuff and John King, all of Sewickley, $10 and costs each for entering the home of Mrs. Charles Wilson and threatening to assault her. They pleaded intoxication.

UPRIGHT PIANOS $125.
Special Lot of Instruments to Be Closed Out at Once.
A prominent institution in Pittsburgh exchanged nine upright pianos after using them for several years, and took from us nine new Hamil-Tone pianos.
We placed the nine exchanged instruments in our shop, where they underwent a thorough overhauling.
And the reputation of this house now stands behind each of these instruments as a piano worthy of any of our customers. Price, $125 each.
This is most exceptional value. Several of the lot are still here, with various others to choose from.
In fact, we would not offer such pianos at such a price but for the reason that our warerooms are very much crowded. The addition of this lot to the usual number of exchanges which we handle from week to week makes a greater demand upon our exchange room than we can comfortably accommodate.
We urge you to come here immediately if interested—$125 for any one of these nine pianos.
Among the lot, and including some other particularly low priced pianos in our exchange room, are such makes as Decker Bros., Bauhman, Weber, Fischer, Chickering, Howard, Huntington, Willard, Mendelssohn, McPhail, Sterling, Hamilton and others.
Of course, there are some higher priced used pianos in this department, but the majority are priced AWAY BELOW their actual value, in order that we may dispose of them quickly.
We shall be glad to furnish a complete list to any one who cannot call, but a personal visit is urged in all cases of those who are looking for really great bargains in pianos.
Exposition visitors are invited to make this Temple of Music their resting place while in the city.

EDUCATIONAL
ANNOUNCEMENT
The Allegheny Preparatory school reopens September 21, 1904. The Headmaster will be at the school office after September 8, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., to meet and classify pupils, to talk with intending patrons and to show those who may wish to see them the buildings and equipment. The school provides instruction for boys and girls from the first year of school life till they are ready for any American college or university. The work is done by 15 expert teachers.
A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debates have their proper place in the curriculum.
Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.

HANDSHAKING IS TIRESOME WORK

Public Receptions Are Hard on Presidents, Says the Veteran White House Doorkeeper.

GRANT HAD TO STOP THEM

"The work of shaking hands and receiving people who call at the White House," says Maj. Charles Loeffler, doorkeeper to the president, "is serious business. But it is part of the price which the statesmen who have occupied the chief executive's chair have been compelled to pay for this high honor."

Maj. Loeffler is the guest of his old friend, Dr. J. Kornblum of this city. When seen in the latter's office yesterday he talked in a very interesting way about life at the White House.

"You have often heard complaints over the rules and social customs of the White House? Some people think this is an attempt to ape the aristocracy of the old world. Such is not the case. All of the rules in force at the White House have been adopted in order to assist the president in handling the crowds which come to see him, and at the same time to give him an opportunity to attend to the duties of his office.

"Why, during the Philadelphia centennial President Grant was compelled to entirely dispense with public receptions. So many people stopped in Washington on their way to and from the Philadelphia exhibition, that the president's time was entirely taken up in shaking hands with the people. They kept him so busy in that way that he did not have any time to attend to the country's business.

"During a regular session of congress the president shakes hands with from 2,500 to 3,000 people at the regular weekly public receptions. These are invitation affairs, and are given in honor of the diplomatic corps, the supreme court, the army and navy, the senate, the cabinet, etc. At the close of these most of the presidents have been completely exhausted. Mr. Roosevelt is the only president who appears to really enjoy these occasions. He delights in meeting the people and always goes through the ordeal in a most cheerful manner. He gives as much time to seeing and meeting the people as his public duties will permit.

"I do not wish you to infer that the other presidents did not look upon public receptions with favor. Most of them, in fact all of them, appeared to be impressed with the idea that it was their duty to meet the public. They all realized they were public servants and willingly did what seemed to be the duty of the president.

"It was interesting to me to note how President Harrison conducted his receptions. Everything moved smoothly and with such exact system. I tell you, there was an even-tempered man.

"It was really a pathetic sight to see President McKinley and his beloved wife at receptions. The people seemed to almost love that man to death. In addition to the physical exertions incident to these social functions his invalid wife at his side was a constant care. But you never heard a word of complaint from President McKinley.

"There never was such a home-like atmosphere in the White House as there has been since President Roosevelt and his delightful family moved into its historic quarters. There is nothing like a house full of healthy, well governed children. Judge Parker may be an able statesman, but if the White House employes could cast the deciding vote the Roosevelt children will stay in the White House for four years longer."

OFFER OF COMPROMISE TO LARKIN REPORTED

Controller Asked to Waive Contention and Advertise Bonds. Bigelow's Statement.

"When will suit be brought against Controller Larkin to compel him to advertise the filtration bonds for sale?" Director Bigelow was asked yesterday before he returned to the mountains for another week of his vacation.

"We want to see first whether Larkin wants to go into court," replied Bigelow, but he refused to say more on the subject.

There were rumors yesterday that the administration had written the controller a letter offering to compromise if the controller would go ahead and advertise the bonds for sale. It is said Larkin has replied to this offer, but it is not believed that he has agreed to any proposition from Bigelow. The controller was told of what Bigelow had said, and he responded: "I cannot say anything, as I am in the hands of my lawyer."

Solicitor Rodgers also refused to make any statement concerning the alleged offer of compromise. The fact that the administration has delayed entering suit for 10 days since the controller notified the committee of his refusal to advertise the bonds, strengthens the belief that an attempt is being made to negotiate with the controller.

Several suits will probably accrue if the controller adheres to his refusal to advertise the bonds. The first suit will be to compel the controller to advertise without going into the main question of legality of the bond issue, and the second suit will be to compel the controller to countersign the bonds.

The French Undermuslins at Half Prices

It was a treat yesterday for women to look over the dainty undermuslins we brought over from Paris to sell for half original prices. The day before we told why the half prices were made possible. It is unlikely such another opportunity to buy finest underclothes for such concessive prices will again occur for a long period. The woman who inclines to undermuslins of finest texture, who dotes on dainty needlework wrought by hand, who likes underclothes invested with the prettiest of trimmings, has only to see this importation to realize her desires.

THE IMPORT WAS A LARGE ONE, INCLUDING EVERY SORT OF FEMININE UNDERGARMENT MADE OF EITHER NAINSOOK, LAWN OR PERCALE, AND OUR RETAIL PRICES ARE EXACTLY HALF OF WHAT SUCH FINE GARMENTS USUALLY SELL FOR.

Our Semi-Annual Sale of Dressmakers' Supplies.

We hold these sales twice each year in the interest of dressmakers and home sewers. The prices named are very special and operate at no other time save in these special sales. The dressmakers who buy in large quantities save dollars, the home sewer saves according to her investment, proportionately. Every sort of sewing requisite is to be found in this special sale now going on, and its price will be found much below the everyday price for such article. Everybody who sews should embrace this opportunity. The saving of dimes is just as important as the saving of dollars.

THE SALE STARTED YESTERDAY, AND MANY PEOPLE TOOK TIME TO RUN IN AND MAKE PURCHASES. CHOOSING TODAY WILL BE FOUND EQUAL TO THAT OF THE FIRST DAY'S SALE, AND THE SAME UNDERPRICES WILL AGAIN BE QUOTED.

A Note to Excursionists

People who come in on the various excursions tomorrow will have a double incentive to visit us—the great array of new things for Autumn and the special sales now going on. Both of the special sales mentioned above will be continued tomorrow, and there will be many other specials throughout the store.

Please note that we have unequaled conveniences for the excursionist, a finely appointed Restaurant, with telephones at each table, a large Public Parlor where you are welcome to spend your leisure, a checking room where any luggage you have may be left.

Please note, again, that on all purchases of $5.00 or more, whether made in person or through our Mail-Order Department, we prepay express, freight and postal charges to any point in the country east of the Mississippi River.

75c Imported Cashmere, 50c Yard.

A fine and seasonable value in dress goods just in the store late last evening. This cashmere is 44 inches wide. It is a French cashmere, and it is regarded as one of the most correct fabrics of the season, its soft, clinging effect lending itself readily to the style now in vogue. It is a serviceable material, and that is to be counted. The color range is royal blue, cardinal, navy, cadet, reseda, tan, havana, baby blue, garnet, seal brown and the always wanted black.

It seems to us that is a color range in which the most critical taste can be met.

For dressy suits for adults and for serviceable wear for children, this imported cashmere will be found very substantial.

Carving Knives and Forks.

The napery may be immaculate, the china beyond reproach, the cuisine unexcelled, but if the carving knives are dull or the dinner knives unsuited to the service, the result is a failure in the eyes of the host who does the carving and of the housewife, who demands a perfect ensemble.

In our Basement Housefurnishing Department we sell carvers, sets and cutlery of many different kinds. None but the best American steel used in those we sell.

New 1905 Irish Dimities, 25c Yard.

We have just brought over from Ireland, where they make the best dimities known to the feminine world, a great lot of fine dimities. The majority of them have plain white background, but some have a sprinkling of pin dots over the white surface. They have a single fine cord running through them and over all are printed in dainty floral effects—tiny bunches of red roses with a touch of green foliage, sprays of pink flowers with pale green leaves, artistic little blue flowers and floral effects in lavender.

Candidly, we never offered such fine dimities for 25c a yard.

Flags of All Nations.

If you have use for a Flag of any country for decorative purposes, no need to go further than our East Basement.

We show Flags in silk, cotton and wool, from the smallest pin flag to the great banner of bunting.

Our prices are much lower than can be found elsewhere, and we guarantee the Flags, whether silk, cotton or wool bunting.

Some Inexpensive Ribbons.

See the new Warp Prints, the handsome Dresdens and Persians, the Plaids and the Embroidered Polka Dots—in widths from 4½ to 11 inches—at 50c a yard and up to $3.50.

Among the much underpriced Ribbons are the following—

6½ and 5-inch Persian, Fancy and Novelty Ribbon, worth 35c, special at 25c a yard.

Girls' Autumn Frocks Less Than Half Price.

$12.00 to $15.00 Dresses, $5.75.

That is a special that should at once interest mothers. While the dresses are undoubtedly fine, the price we are going to charge you today warrants your buying them for school dresses if you would have your daughters appear in the best. They are fit, though, to grace any occasion.

A manufacturer's sample line that our buyer bargained for while in New York last week—one-piece dresses of either challis, cashmere or wool plaid, in blue, brown, pink and green. Trimmings of lace, ribbon, braided effects and lace yokes. Sizes for girls 6 to 12 years.

$16.50 Raincoats,

What d'ye think of that? besides being so practical.

Some that just got to the department yesterday afternoon—ready this morning at the less price.

Full length effects in rain-proof cravenette, front and back with graduated tucks above and below waist line, wide sleeves with deep fancy cuffs, wide collar with tabs at each side, wide box front, belt all around with two-button back. Old Gorgon Graham by George Horace Lorimer.

Being more letters from a Self-Made Merchant to his son and adding another volume to American Books of Humor. The second book of Mr. Lorimer is addressed to his son as a manager instead of a clerk, and has an even wider appeal than the first, which reached a total sale of about 300,000 copies.

There is much of Pierpont's domestic problems, it has a broader interest than the first book. Essentially American in character, both in its humor and its philosophy.

Published at $1.50. In our Book Nook for $1.03. Other new books arriving daily.

Queen Quality

THE FAMOUS SHOE FOR WOMEN

All the New Autumn and Winter boots are here awaiting inspection by the women of Greater Pittsburg. Some sixty different styles. Shown in every fashionable leather and in every finish. New lasts, different styles of toes, heels of various heights. In fact Queen Quality has become a synonym for all 'round shoe goodness. When the manufacturer of this now celebrated shoe looked about him for a name that was suggestive of the shoe itself, he decided on Queen Quality as expressing in words the strength and grace that these shoes possess in fact.

No other shoes that women wear have so many merits. No other shoes of equal merit sell for so little money. Other shoes of the same high quality of material will cost at least $1.00 a pair more and even then they haven't the restful feeling nor the stylish appearance of Queen Quality.

They Sell Everywhere for $3.00 a Pair.

Some of the numbers have an extra finish—the last touch of the shoemaker's craft. These special numbers will cost $3.50 a pair.

If style in footwear is your hobby, be sure you will be pleased with Queen Quality boots.

If durability is the point you consider of greatest importance, let us introduce you to Queen Quality by all means.

If comfort is the essential element, then be assured there are no other shoes which fit so closely, yet easily and comfortably as Queen Quality.

In most shoe shops one has to take a pair of shoes if they fit reasonably well, whether one likes a particular shoe or not. Such is not the case here. You can select any style you like and be sure that there is a size to fit you exactly.

These famous shoes are sold all over the country, from Atlantic to Pacific, and give satisfaction everywhere, consequently we feel very proud of the fact that we are the sole representatives for them in Western Pennsylvania.

Further evidences of improvement in the iron and steel trades are afforded by the orders of the Frick Coke Company to put every available oven at work and the plans of the Republic company for new mills at Youngstown. That the business will be done at a lower level of prices is apparent, but the cut has not been a disastrous one. The new prices agreed upon will allow of profitable business, the increased output compensating to a considerable degree for the narrower margin between producing cost and selling figures. The tide has turned decisively from the depression of last winter.

There is fresh activity at Port Arthur and apparently the Japanese advance upon Mukden has begun. There will be fresh tales of carnage and horror. The Russians will no doubt make stubborn resistance at both places, but there is no apparent prospect that they can succeed in doing anything but to inflict losses upon the enemy and suffer equal or greater losses themselves. Such is war, however, and it is probable that the Russian government considers the nearly hopeless situation in Manchuria less dangerous to the dynasty than the sentiment in European Russia should peace be sought under present circumstances.

An advance of $5 in the steerage rates on the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American lines is a welcome indication that emigration from European slums to this country is not to be so easy in the future. The other lines cannot follow this good example too rapidly. The new rate of $15 cannot be a profitable one to the steamship companies and it would appear to be to their interest to make a further advance. There is no doubt that such action would meet the hearty approval of the American public, since the influx of foreigners is at too lively a rate for comfort.

The congress of "free thinkers" assembled at Rome added no particular luster to the fame of their organization by making the proximity of the vatican a reason for a congratulatory message to Minister Combes. Attaches at the vatican added nothing to their ecclesiastic dignity by formulating a tirade against the congress, imputing to it a mistaken origin. In fact, the incident is not pleasant to contemplate. In this age there is hardly any need for "free thinkers'" congresses, for the freedom of thought and speech are well established over a large part of the earth, and yet there need be no violent objection to such an assemblage. Controversies are no longer lost or won upon dogmatic proclamations or by bitter rejoinders.

Among the many pensioners on Uncle Sam's rolls there are some who get that to which they are not entitled and a few persons are defrauded of what they should get. The case of Collins in Bradford is a flagrant instance of fraud. But considering the liberal pension system of this country and the tremendous number of persons affected, the frauds are few. When any are detected they are usually promptly punished, and that has a tendency to discourage the sharks. The man who has been drawing Collins' pension should be made an example of for the benefit of others who are mean enough to rob an old soldier of the support his grateful country allows him.

Democratic Chairman Brennen proposes to make the repeal of the Sunday law an issue in the Allegheny county campaign, especially in the legislative districts. It is an issue that will find little support in this county. There is nothing wrong about the Sunday law. It is a very flexible statute, exempting all works of charity and necessity. The troubles complained of are entirely due to the construction of that clause which is not always wise. But since the law was enacted the construction put upon it by the courts has constantly broadened in sympathy with changed conditions, so that many things are now permitted that were formerly forbidden. So it will be in the future. There is no occasion for repeal, but for modification of interpretation.

Apparently the New York Democrats have not definitely decided upon their candidates. In other words, Mr. Hill has not yet told them whom they are to support. Yesterday developed a lively boom for Edward Shepard for governor and his chances look good. The remainder of the ticket will be arranged around the principal candidate. William Hornblower, elected temporary chairman, made his chief attack upon the Republican platform "assumption" that the record of the party is unassailable and that of the Democratic party one of disaster. He went back to 1801 to find Democratic virtues, long before the Republican party was born, commended Cleveland's first administration as harmless and attempted to apologize for Cleveland's second term. Then he quit. The Bryan record is apparently too much even for Mr. Hornblower.

The Tibetan Treaty.

Russia has entered a general protest against the British treaty with Tibet, laying especial emphasis upon the provision for occupation of the Chumbi valley until the indemnity is paid and the virtual assumption of a British suzerainty over Tibet. It is probably natural that Russia should show some distress over British aggression in that quarter, as Russia has long contemplated a similar step in its own behalf. But beyond sentimental considerations there is very little to quarrel about.

Tibet is worth practically nothing to either of the great powers. Its territory is almost inaccessible and the greater part of its population consists of nomadic tribes having nothing in common except gross superstition and differing from each other in everything save the misery of their filthy existence. There are no passes through the mountains by which Britain might threaten Russia or over which Russia could invade India. There is no commerce of the country worth looking after, unless the exchange of Tibetan wool for the tea of India may be called a commerce.

In as far as we can see, the British treaty with Tibet is of no value to Great Britain. The indemnity demanded is much less than the cost of the expedition and will probably never be paid. The occupation of Chumbi valley will be a perpetual expense. It is held in India, however, that the relations established with the land of the lamas will be of advantage in the control of the native population of India. There may be something in that claim, for the Buddhists are moved almost wholly by sentimental considerations. Yet that should give no offense to Russia, unless the same influence was sought by that empire for use in Mongolia and Manchuria. And, speaking of Manchuria, it is almost ridiculous for Russia to complain of unwarranted aggression.

Progress in Wireless.

Marconi, the pioneer in promoting the wonderful discovery of wireless telegraphy, is flitting back and forth across the ocean he intends to bridge with aerial messages and continuing his prophecies of marvelous achievements. Since the first announcement that words could be transmitted long distances without wires this inventor has always been on the eve of an important announcement. It would seem time, therefore, that he fulfilled some of these predictions before he made others. It is nearly two years since he flashed his first message across the Atlantic in relays and there has been little advance made in his system since then.

To be sure, Marconi has been promoting his enterprise in several countries and has been remarkably successful in interesting sovereigns in his invention. The financial end of the wireless companies has been well looked after, so that even conservative investors have given it their support. Steamship lines are equipping their vessels with wireless instruments and the use of the system has been tried on warships. By increasing the power and improving the instruments messages can be carried longer distances, but the increase in the length of the intervals spanned has been slight.

If Marconi wishes to preserve the patience of the public he will confine his activities more to the development of the system so that it will do what he has all along claimed for it—send messages across the Atlantic. It will not satisfy the public to send another prearranged message and at a given hour, but the words must be unexpected in order to remove all ground for skepticism. Further than that the efficacy of the wireless in war should be proved. It is understood that the Japanese and Russians have used the system extensively, and when the censorship is removed we shall know whether the wireless system was of real use to them. One of the Russian naval commanders commended it highly after August 10. Of course, the inventor cannot be ordered to make his machine perfect, but he will please the general public as well as the scientific world if he postpones further predictions until he has accomplished some of the results he has long been prophesying.

Seeking Special Favors.

Campaign managers are likely to get an exaggerated opinion of the strength of certain trade interests when claims are made for favors or protests filed against decisions with the threat that the policies proposed would influence votes. The position of the Republican party is so well known on the subject of the tariff that there is little temptation for the manufacturer to secure ante-election promises of protection, but the Democrats are no doubt besieged by those who want a remission in duties while trade interests generally wish to be heard when they see a chance that either party will espouse their cause.

Just now the tobacco importers and manufacturers are hoping to settle disputed points peculiar to the industry and Republicans were warned against yielding to the American Tobacco Company in the selection of a stamp for imported cigars. For several years a bright band has been fixed to every box of imported cigars, bearing the name of the steamer which brought them. United States dealers thought the label was too conspicuous and the treasury department agreed with them. When preparations were being made to substitute a more modest band the American Tobacco Company, known as the "trust," put in an objection. This company wanted imported cigars to remain conspicuous, as it was for their interest to cultivate the sale of high-priced makes, and they considered the blazing label a trade-mark.

It was reported that the American Tobacco Company had decided to appeal to the president when it failed to secure satisfaction from the treasury department, and there was immediately a commotion among those opposed to the trust. There was no appeal made to the president, however, and after a hearing the treasury department refused to change its determination to substitute more modest bands. The dispute has been settled, and people may well ask why it should have assumed a political significance at all and been brought to the attention of the campaign committee. The independent dealers no doubt had a suspicion that their consolidated rival might seek especial favors of the party, but this fear has proved groundless. For a time there were threats that this or that tobacco interest would be turned against the administration, but the treasury department has apparently persisted in a decision made after careful deliberation and without any intention to prejudice either side in the dispute.

Tenement House Fires.

Recent tenement house fires in New York, accompanied by fatalities, have aroused public attention to the miserable conditions surrounding a large element of the population of the large cities. Tenement house reform has been given at least a vigorous mental impulse. A good many propositions have been put forward, and among them is one from the vigilant socialists that tenements should be built by the government. These agitators contend that many persons are and always will be unable to pay for their accommodations a price that will represent a fair return, or what is considered a fair return, on the investment of private capital for comfortable dwellings. These persons crowd into the unsanitary quarters from necessity and constitute a constant menace to the public health and the welfare of society. To prevent the spread of contagions and the breeding of crime, it is argued, the state should provide for this class comfortable homes, partly at the public expense. That is, the state ought to build superior houses and rent them at tenement prices.

At first glance this proposition is attractive. The protection of public health and morality is a duty of the state. But a closer inquiry reveals the fallacy. The persons who constitute the permanent tenement house population are those who are not equipped to win in the battle of life in the cities. They are, in part, the derelicts of society. To make life easy for them would be to encourage thriftlessness. It would be to invite people of that character to swarm into the cities in increasing numbers, and the next stage would be the necessity of providing for them the means of subsistence as well as shelter. At that point the burden of taxation for the benefit of the derelict class would become so great as to drive into the tenements those whose earnings had previously been sufficient to pay moderate rents and living expenses. There would be an endless chain dragging the laboring population down to poverty.

This problem has been pretty well threshed over in Glasgow, where the erection of a model tenement by the municipality has raised the question of public ownership of all tenements. It has been shown there that a movement of that kind is not only an interference with the rights of private capital, but that it would be a public misfortune. There, as here, the tendency is for population to drift from the country to the city. A large number of those who migrate to the centers of population are not needed there, though they are wanted in the country. We are all familiar in this country with the annual cry from the west for more farmhands. These persons, who are not needed in the cities, having no special qualifications to make them valuable there, are the same that find lodgment in the tenements. Now, if they are given free rent or rent below cost the tide is certain to be increased and the evil magnified. The model tenement, on the other hand, has a tendency to incite the tenement dwellers to greater efforts to improve their own conditions and to compel private capital to provide as good accommodations as it can for the money. The movement started in this city by philanthropic ladies has the same object. It begins with one tenement. When that one makes return on the investment another will be built. As the number increases private capital will be driven to supply as good houses at the same rent. This will prevent extortion, which is proper, and will afford a standard by which public building regulations may be gauged. If it is shown that houses of a certain grade will yield revenue there can be no excuse for permitting unsanitary shacks to be maintained.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—While the Tammany chieftains are in Saratoga battling with Hill and McCarren, Commissioner McAdoo of the police department of Greater New York is at home attending strictly to the business of trying to stem the crime wave that has been sweeping over the city for the past few weeks. Today there were arraigned before the various magistrates a score or more of "suspicious persons," who were gathered in during the night, and wherever a possible case could be made out the prisoners were sent for a sojourn on the island. Commissioner McAdoo seems terribly in earnest, but—and there's the rub—he is not given the assistance of the other powers that be, which such a crusade as he is now waging requires.

Tammany politicians do not want a "closed" town. Tammany thrives on vice and crime, and the Tammany policeman has more respect for the work of the precinct captain than for that of the commissioner himself. A few months ago saloons closed their front doors at 1 a. m. A few of them opened their side doors to those persons whom the attendant could identify, but to none other. Women could get into very few of them after hours. It is different now. The side door of every booze emporium in the tenderloin swings nimbly on its hinges, and there is no lookout to see that only the elect gain admittance. The drinks are not served in a back room as formerly, but customers can stand at the bar as long as they are able to stand and pay the score. To be sure the lights are turned low, and the blinds are up, but that is not enough to disguise the fact that "business is business," as Mr. Crane says up at the Criterion theater this week. Commissioner McAdoo may not know it, but that is the situation in the tenderloin and probably all over the city where there is to be found an all-night trade.

All Awaiting the Blow.

Those Tammany men who did not go to Saratoga are listening intently for the sound of the blow which is expected to strike Charles F. Murphy in the region of the solar plexus. Tammany has about the show of a snowball in summer time when it comes to a state convention. A year ago Murphy was being hailed in Greater New York as a coming state and national leader. That meant Mayor McClellan was to be boosted gradually toward the White House at Washington, via the chief state job at Albany. Since then Murphy has made more errors than an amateur ball player in a league game. The result is McClellan will probably have to get a new manager—that means a new boss for Tammany—before he has a chance of so much as a look-in in national or even state politics. Murphy has proved himself a political quarterhorse. In the big race he blows up in the stretch.

An Echo from the Slocum.

The body of a man found in the East river today, with legs and hands missing, is believed by the police to be another victim of the General Slocum disaster. The condition of the body indicates it has been in the water for months and the mutilation was likely caused by the body coming in contact with obstructions. There are still many persons missing who were believed to have been on the ill-fated excursion steamer, and the finding of the body is no surprise. It is probable other bodies may yet come to the surface, while still others have doubtless gone out to sea with the tide.

John Smith Arrives in Town.

Someone played a doubly mean trick upon a very small baby boy early this morning. The child was not only abandoned, but attached to his clothing was a bit of paper identifying him as "John Smith." The new Mr. Smith was discovered in a dray at Charles and West streets. He was turned over to the police, and Surgeon Lennon declared it was not more than eight hours old. His lusty cries proved John Smith is all right physically, and as for his finances, a $5 note was found among his effects. But to think of making that boy grow up as one of the great army of John Smiths, when any other name could as well have been chosen for him!

Still a Few Horses Left.

If anyone thinks for a moment the automobile has driven the horse out of commission he can find plenty of evidence to the contrary by watching the homecoming arrangements of the wealthy New Yorkers. Sitting in the Hotel York today, I saw numerous processions of equipages passing up Seventh avenue from the Twenty-third street ferry. They included everything from the pony cart to the closed carriage. In one line I counted 10 different styles of vehicles, all consigned to the same family, and in another there were 7. The 10 were consigned to Mrs. Ogden Goelet, by the way. When one considers the stables of these people also include a string of saddle horses, it is easy to see that the automobile is only an incident, while our friend the horse is an institution.

Fear an Impromptu Affair.

The battleship Connecticut is all ready for launching at the New York navy yard. All that is necessary is for some husky workmen to knock a block loose and she would glide down into the ways and take her first bath in sea water. That is just now worrying the commandant, and for fear that some vandal will start a launching on his own account, Admiral Rodgers has placed a guard around the vessel night and day. The Connecticut must have her name properly given her and she must get her taste of wine, or the jackies would never be happy. As an extra precaution against a premature launching, the vessel is lighted up with electricity every night.

From a King to a Harlemite.

Simon Haberman died in Harlem yesterday, a plain citizen with only a few hundred thousand dollars to his credit, although he was once a king with hundreds of subjects to kow-tow before him. His kingdom was located on an island in the North seas, and though it was not large his reign was absolute. He got tired of the monarch business after a while and decided to settle in Harlem and take up the exciting routine of a haberdasher. That the revenues were greater in Harlem than in his island kingdom is proven by the fact that Mr. Haberman arrived in Harlem penniless and in the course of years amassed a very comfortable fortune which he leaves to his family.

More Trouble Ahead for the Public.

Those of you who have not laid in your winter supply of diamonds had better give your orders immediately. News has been received by the local dealers that there is to be a strike of cutters and polishers in Antwerp and Amsterdam shortly. The affair is likely to cause American buyers much inconvenience, as the supply of old family jewels now to be had at the lowest price is getting very small.

An Unhappy Monarch

GEORGE WEISS.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—Observed from behind the scenes the coronation of King Peter of Servia tomorrow would be funny if the humor of the situation were not so grim as to be almost terrifying. But the picture of a terror-stricken monarch on a blood-stained throne, helpless in the hands of murderers, whose crime was so beastly that not all of the details could be printed, cannot be looked on as a joke—even when it is known that the monarch in question has been hunting high and low for somebody to lend him money enough to buy himself a crown, for somebody of royal rank to come to his coronation and for somebody to pay the expenses of the ceremonies.

The Servian government has decided to divide the ceremony into two parts. There will be a religious anointment of the king at the historical monastery of Zicha, intended to satisfy the pious desires of the priest-ridden and superstitious population of Servia, and a more or less gorgeous state ceremony at Belgrade to emphasize the temporal power of the Karageorgevitch dynasty.

An Unpleasant Discovery.

The coronation, fixed for a date in November, 1903, had to be postponed because it was discovered that King Peter's enemies proposed to take advantage of the leave of absence granted to troops throughout the country on coronation day to dethrone him by a bloody revolution similar to the one which placed him on the throne. The coronation was again postponed because serious differences arose between the king and the officers who took a leading part in the assassination of Alexander and Draga.

King Peter, responding to pressure by the great powers of Europe, proposed to relegate the assassins to a back seat; whereupon they informed him that if they did not receive the honor and respect due to them they would tear the crown from his head and pierce him with their swords, even if it were in the sanctuary while the archbishop of Belgrade was anointing him king of Servia by divine right. The unfortunate King Peter feared to disobey them, and at the same time was reluctant to offend the great powers of Europe.

Looking for a Loan.

Subsequently, when he had contrived to find means of satisfying both the powerful assassins and the great powers of Europe, King Peter made the unpleasant discovery that he had no crown and no money to cover the expenses of the coronation ceremony. He had been under the impression that he would be crowned with the crown which King Alexander wore, but it developed this symbol of regal authority had been smashed to bits by the rebel officers on the fatal night of June 11, 1903. King Peter also was given to understand in terms more forcible than loyal and polite that the elected representatives of the people had no intention of squandering national money on the purchase of such a bauble as a crown or on the arrangement of costly fetes.

A more ludicrous situation never existed in all history: On the one side a king pining to be crowned; on the other side the legislature which summoned him to ascend the throne refusing to buy him a crown or pay the expenses of his coronation.

In this predicament King Peter dispatched an emissary to various European capitals to raise a personal loan which would enable him to buy a golden crown decorated with diamonds and to pay the expenses of the coronation festivities. This emissary journeyed in succession to St. Petersburg, Berlin, Brussels, London, Paris and Rome, returning to Belgrade with empty hands and a budget of insulting replies in his pocket.

King Peter found an amusing way out of one of these difficulties. He suddenly appointed his confidential secretary, who had spent many long years of exile with him in Switzerland, to search for and publish the ancient records of the founders of the Karageorgevitch family. The secretary contrived to unearth an ancient manuscript in which it was recorded that the first Karageorgevitch who occupied the Servian throne wore a crown not of gold, but of iron, in token of the fact that he had defeated the Turks and liberated the Servian people with weapons of this metal.

No one but the king's confidential secretary ever saw this manuscript, and there is no other record that the first Karageorge wore an iron crown; nevertheless, King Peter issued a solemn proclamation to his people that he would not be crowned with a golden crown, but with an iron crown, in accordance with the noble tradition of his glorious family.

In this ingenious way King Peter surmounted the difficulty of having no money wherewith to purchase a golden crown, and while he will be crowned with a simple ring of iron the great mass of his subjects believe this metal is chosen for a great historical reason, which appeals to their national sentiment.

Believe Him Guilty.

King Peter is faced by other formidable difficulties in connection with the coronation. Since he ascended the Servian throne it has been his constant endeavor to persuade all the monarchs of Europe to recognize him as the rightful king of Servia, and as a royal sovereign possessing absolute equality of rank and dignity with them. It is his especial desire that the formal recognition of his claim should be indicated through the presence at his coronation of a member of every royal family in Europe. This would not only proclaim him to all the world as a king recognized to be the worthy peer of the kaiser, the czar and the other proud monarchs of Europe, but it would vastly increase his prestige among his own subjects and strengthen his trembling hold on the reins of government.

Although it has not been conclusively proved that King Peter directly participated in the conspiracy which led to the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, there are good grounds for believing he was well aware of what was going to happen. The fact that the identical officers who took the most prominent part in the actual murder of Alexander and Draga have been the most powerful men in Servia since Peter's accession strengthens the grave suspicion.

The kaiser and the czar and other royal personages in Europe would be exposing the whole monarchial principle to ridicule if they acknowledge as their equal a king who ascended to his throne after participating in the assassination of his predecessor.

Declined Without Thanks.

King Peter has strenuously attempted to soften the hearts of the monarchs of Europe. He sent his daughter, Princess Helene, who was educated under the supervision of her mother's sister, Grand Duchess Militza, in St. Petersburg, to beg the czar to send some member of the Russian imperial family, even if it were the youngest and most insignificant prince, to represent him at the coronation. The czar refused, and Russia will be represented at the coronation simply by the Russian diplomatic representative at Belgrade, who is quite a subordinate member of the Russian diplomatic service.

King Peter dispatched another special emissary to beg the kaiser to send a German prince as his representative to the coronation, but William II. refused even to receive the emissary.

Mr. Simitch, a former prime minister of Servia, was sent to London to appeal to King Edward to treat King Peter less harshly than the other monarchs. The English government gave Mr. Simitch clearly to understand it was quite out of the question for any prince of the royal blood to represent England at the coronation.

Another appeal addressed to the aged and benevolent emperor of Austria elicited the emphatic reply that the honor of the house of Hapsburg could not be soiled by the presence of one of its members at the coronation of a king whose hands are stained with blood.

The Terror of Assassination.

It is not only the contemptuous hostility of the great powers of Europe that makes King Peter unhappy on the Servian throne. Ever since his arrival in Belgrade a few days after the murder of his predecessor he has lived in mortal terror of assassination. Hitherto every prince and king who occupied the Servian throne either has been assassinated or driven into exile after a compulsory abdication, and King Peter has every reason to fear that he will be no exception to this rule. He is merely the caricature of a king sitting on the blood-stained throne to carry out the will of a group of murderous military dictators, whose unbearable tyranny has alienated the masses of the people to such an extent that one or the other malcontent, burning with his own and others' wrongs, is likely enough to terminate the national misery by putting a bullet through King Peter's royal body.

King Peter has wisely intrusted his personal safety to foreigners. Immediately after his accession to the throne he formed a bodyguard composed of men who have served in the Swiss army, and he surrounds himself with his Swiss protectors day and night. When he makes a journey through his dominions the Swiss bodyguard accompanies him to keep his loving subjects at a safe distance.

Too Much Censorship.

The Japanese censorship has been admittedly the most effective any nation ever established in time of war. If it has erred at all it has erred solely in being more rigorous than was necessary. And from the military standpoint that is no error. Censorship has, however, certain aspects which are not military, which in a loose use of the word may be called diplomatic. And from this point of view Japan has undoubtedly suffered of late because of its very strictness. The correspondents with Kuroki's army—or some of them, at least—have in the last two weeks taken their revenge for the restrictions that were previously imposed on them. They may not have consciously misrepresented anything, but their vexation has nevertheless repeatedly led them into misrepresentations, as can be readily ascertained by a comparison of some of the dispatches they have sent from Chinese territory with the official reports on both the Russian and Japanese sides.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Answers to Correspondents.

Reader—It is generally conceded that Germany contains the greatest number of musicians, that music is more generally appreciated there and that the largest number of our greatest composers have come from there. Excellent concerts and opera may be heard in Germany at a very low price, and are attended by entire families, who listen attentively and very appreciatingly. The musical family life is also more pronounced there than in other countries, since it is nothing uncommon to find whole families who for pleasure alone form themselves into small orchestras, the father playing, perhaps, the 'cello; the mother the piano, the sons violins, flutes or clarinets, the daughters violas, violins and harp. This is, be it understood, not in the least professional work, but done merely for the love which the people have for music. As for string quartets, they are to be found by the dozen in every German town. If you care to look up the matter you will find in the biographies of the great masters many allusions to this phase of German life which are interesting reading.

Dog Fancier—Boroughs can make their own regulations regarding dog tax aside from that levied by the assessors. The keepers of dog pounds can deliver a dog to anyone who pays the license fee required. Unclaimed vicious dogs are killed.

Gen. Blackmar's Command.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—In your issue of Saturday, on page 10, under an article "Never forgets fallen sons," you speak of Gen. Blackmar's tribute to Pennsylvania, etc. This article comes from Philadelphia and speaks of Blackmar serving in the Sixteenth Pennsylvania cavalry. An afternoon paper last week spoke of him as being a lieutenant in the Eighth Ohio cavalry. Allow me to tell you who he is. Wilmon W. Blackmar, captain company H, First West Virginia cavalry, provost marshal Third brigade, Custer division, Sheridan's cavalry. He received a medal from congress for meritorious services at a critical stage of the battle of Five Forks April 1, 1865, where he, without orders, led a successful advance upon the enemy. Blackmar, like a good many Pennsylvanians, went to West Virginia service. There were so few of my old regiment left to be mustered out that we do not purpose letting Ohio and Pennsylvania claim them. WILL MAKE BLUE LAWS AN ISSUE

Democrats Will Instruct Candidates for Legislature to Vote to Repeal Act of 1794.

GUFFEY'S BIG FREIGHT BILLS

Allegheny county Democrats will endeavor to make a local issue out of the blue law crusade. At their county convention today a resolution will be adopted pledging legislative candidates to vote for the repeal of the act of 1794, or for an amendment which will prevent the use of the law for purposes of persecution.

The resolution has been prepared by W. J. Brennen, who is attending to the details of the gathering today. His hardest task is to find enough Democrats willing to accept nominations on a ticket that is certain of defeat by a majority of 60,000. He claims that he will have a full slate, and that every nominee will be a Democrat. The blue law resolution is expected to give the convention a little life. It will declare that the Democracy stands for an orderly observance of the Sabbath. Reference will be made to the "misguided zeal" of religious organizations in attempting to enforce the act of 1794 by the employment of agents unfitted for the work.

The convention will be held in common council chamber at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Candidates for congress, state senate, orphans court judge, coroner and director of the poor will be nominated. The assembly nominees will be selected by committees representing the eight districts in the county. They will not have completed their work before tomorrow night.

Brennen Will Have a Slate.

Mr. Brennen says that the four candidates for congress have not been agreed upon, but that the slate will be ready in time for the convention. It is the desire that the delegates shall not be bothered with the detail of selecting the nominees. Mr. Brennen indignantly denies the report that James F. Burke, the Republican nominee in the Thirty-first district, will not have opposition. He says that nothing but Democrats will be put on guard this time, and no attempt will be made to secure fusion in any of the congressional or legislative districts.

Judge Hawkins, the Republican nominee for judge of the orphans court, will be indorsed by the Democrats. County Chairman Thomas B. Alcorn will make the speech presenting the name of the jurist to the convention. Dr. George R. Hurst of Pittsburgh is slated for coroner and scouts are out looking for a man to run for director of the poor. In the Fifth legislative district John B. Yellig and John Ferrick will be the candidates from the south side of the river. Yellig was a member of the last house, having gone in on the fusion wave.

In the Fourth district the Democrats have some chance of electing a member of the house. So far a candidate has not been agreed upon. P. J. Barry, leader in the Fifth ward, and P. B. Kearns, boss of the Tenth ward, want E. J. Kirby of the Fifth ward. S. J. Toole insists that a man from the First ward must be selected, if a Democrat is to be elected. Several First ward men are being considered.

James N. Wampler, chairman of the Democratic city committee of McKeesport, was offered the assembly nomination in the Eighth district and declined it. He says it would be useless to try to defeat James F. Woodward, the Republican nominee. Dr. Thomas S. Anderson of Crafton may be one of the Democratic candidates in the Sixth district.

Republican County Committee.

Chairman Ford has called a meeting of the Republican county committte to be held in common council chamber Saturday afternoon. The purpose is to talk over plans of the campaign with the members. These meetings are held each year and always awaken great interest in the work of getting out the vote. The campaign committee will be announced prior to the Saturday meeting, and on that day a list of the spellbinders will probably be made public. It will contain the names of a number of men who have been active on the stump for the Citizens.

The Republican congressional, legislative and county candidates held a meeting at county headquarters yesterday to outline the work they are to do in the campaign. With the exception of Congressman John Dalzell, the nominees were all present. Good reports were received from all parts of the county.

The delegates to the Reading convention of the State League of Republican clubs left for the Berks county capital last night. The county will have 112 delegates and will be in a position to bag some of the honors. Robert H. Lindsay of Pittsburgh is a candidate for secretary of the league.

Big Contribution from Guffey.

Controller Larkin yesterday made the announcement that Col. J. M. Guffey had either contributed or would contribute within the next few days $50,000 to the Democratic national campaign fund. Larkin says that he knows that the colonel has decided to give that amount. Guffey is always one of the heaviest contributors and endeavors to make up in dollars for his failure to be able to deliver any electoral votes from Pennsylvania. The amount he is credited with depositing in the Taggart "kitty" is said to equal the "stack" shoved in by "Uncle Gassaway" Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president.

In addition to the national contribution, Col. Guffey will be expected to pay whatever freight charges there are in this county to run Brennen's anti-blue law scheme. He will also have to grease the wheels of the state machine and respond to the appeals of congressional candidates in alleged doubtful districts.

The Democrats do not know when they will open their campaign either in the state or county. Brennen says that the candidates will be called together in a few days to determine what they will do. He expects that three big mass meetings will be held, one in Pittsburgh, another in Allegheny and the third in McKeesport. He has no information concerning the plans of State Chairman Hall.

Friends of ex-Mayor Robert J. Black of McKeesport say he will be a candidate for mayor.

Is the date for the opening of the Evening Sessions Iron City College.

MORE BUILDINGS IN PHIPPS' GROUP

Capacity of the Power Plant Has Been Made Greater Than Present Need.

ENGINEERS DISCUSS PLANS

The Phipps office building and the Phipps' power building, at Sixth street and Duquesne way, are only the nucleus of a group which Henry Phipps proposes to construct in that section, according to a paper which was read at the first fall meeting of the Engineers' society last evening by Gerald E. Flanagan.

The paper dealt with the power building, and pointed out that its purpose is to render the Phipps properties entirely independent of public service corporations. The design of the building's foundations, with massive concrete walls high and powerful enough to keep out all floods, was described. Considerable attention was paid to the machinery installed, furnishing light, heat and power, while an artesian well supplies drinking water. The water for steam-making purposes, etc., is brought directly from the river. The exhaust steam from the engines is used for heating. The capacity of the plant is far in excess of the present needs, so that without further extensions it may care for the other projected buildings.

The society adopted resolutions in honor of the late Selwyn M. Taylor, the distinguished Pittsburgh mining engineer who lost his life in trying to rescue victims of the Harwick disaster. He was the only life member of the society. Glowing tributes were paid to his ability and his worth as a man.

A number of new members were elected and many additional names were received for membership.

PHIPPS CASE IS CLOSED.

Mrs. Phipps' Maid Says It Is a Sealed Incident and All Is Satisfactory.

Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, the recently divorced wife of Lawrence C. Phipps, spent nearly all of yesterday in visiting her friends in the East End and driving over the boulevards with her two children, Helen and Dorothy. Mrs. Phipps did not return from her visits and drive until near the dinner hour, and then she excused herself to all visitors, her maid saying she was tired after her long drive.

Mrs. Phipps' maid said that Mrs. Phipps would not see reporters, and that all the incidents of the famous case were closed. The maid also said that the settlement between Mr. and Mrs. Phipps was satisfactory to both parties.

It is possible that Mr. Phipps will come to Pittsburgh from Denver next Monday to settle up the details of his divorce. The papers turning over to him the property known as "Grandview" and the Denver house are expected to be arranged to his satisfaction during next week. A close friend of Mrs. Phipps stated yesterday afternoon that Mrs. Phipps could have arranged the same terms of settlement last June when Mr. Phipps was in Pittsburgh looking up testimony for his divorce suit without the publication the case has got.

AWAIT TSCHUME DECISION.

Allegheny Business Men to Do Nothing With Investigation Until Next Week.

Nothing further will be made public concerning the organization of Allegheny business men who have combined to bring about an investigation of the "graft" charges against certain city officials, until after the hearing in the Tschume case, in court, Saturday morning. It will almost certainly be decided, Saturday, whether or not Tschume is to retain his license and it is expected that the promised investigation of conditions in Allegheny will be made more imperative by testimony to be submitted at this final hearing.

There was no meeting yesterday of the men who are the leaders in the movement and it was said by one of them that nothing would be said until early next week. There are a number of witnesses who have been subpoenaed by the prosecution in the Tschume case whose testimony is not regarded as necessary at the hearing but who will be used when the investigation of the "graft" charges is started.

Candidates for Holland's Place.

There is speculation in Braddock as to the successor of the late Robert M. Holland, who served the Third ward of that borough for 18 years successively in council. Henry C. Shallenberger, cashier of the State bank of Braddock, may fill the office until the spring election. Mr. Shallenberger served three terms as burgess of Braddock. Councils will elect Mr. Holland's successor at its next meeting. Other aspirants are William Connor, former Councilman George McClure and Louis A. Drexler.

A Very Successful Opening.

Yesterday was the opening of the Michigan Furniture Company's annual fall sale. From early morning till close of day throngs of people were filing in to inspect the large stock of furniture of best manufacture. Every article included in the massive stock of high-class furniture had been reduced to prices especially inducive to purchasers. This sale presents a rare opportunity to procure furniture of highest quality at prices really far below the ordinary. Judging from the success of the first day there will be but a small remainder of the stock by the end of the week. As a rule people will always take quick advantage of an opportunity as is now presented by the Michigan Furniture Company. Anyone in need of furniture should not fail to attend this sale.

VICTOR HERBERT'S PLAN HELPS EXPO ACOUSTICS

By Stretching a Sheet Across Orchestra Stand the Most Delicate Tones Are Made Clear.

Victor Herbert's knowledge of acoustics brought about an innovation in music hall at the exposition last night. A great sheet of heavy white duck was stretched across the orchestra stand from column to column, resting nearly horizontally 10 feet above the heads of the players.

"The great vaulted dome of music hall is all right for a brass band," said Mr. Herbert, "but for the delicate work of an orchestra such as mine, it is too roomy."

Accordingly the canvas was stretched and the effect was remarkable. It is now possible for the daintiest bit of work on the most sensitive instrument of the great orchestra to be heard with distinctness in any part of the immense hall, and the effect upon the ensemble playing is equally beneficial.

Mr. Herbert's first program last night contained numerous interesting numbers, including his own "Irish Rhapsody," a work of emerald richness and beauty.

The "Peer Gynt" suite was the feature of the second part.

Tomorrow is excursion day from all the towns throughout Western Pennsylvania to the Expo. A very large and ardent audience is expected at the exposition for the afternoon concerts. The two matinee programs for today are:

2 P. M.

Overture, "Le Caid" ..... Thomas
Sextette from "Lucia" ..... Donizetti

For Bride and Bridegroom.

Miss Alice Mae Neff of Allegheny and Edward Higgins of Norwich, Conn., who will be married this morning, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Logue of Bennett street, East End, at a dinner given at the Monongahela club Monday evening. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Neff of Alpine avenue, Allegheny, and John Higgins of Norwich, a brother of the prospective bridegroom. After the dinner a theater party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Neff at the Nixon.

Money Easier in East.

The Braddock school board yesterday sold the issue of $70,000 worth of school bonds which were ordered issued in August, to Rudolph, Kleybolte & Co., of New York, at a premium of $1,061 and accrued interest. The highest bid, coming from New York, indicates easier money there than in the west. The issue is to pay for the new school building in the First ward.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards Were Promptly Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delamare street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold, which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."—C. B. Newhof.

PRES. C. B. NEWHOF,
Sufferer From Catarrh of Bladder.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. F. B. Richards, 609 E Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a Sun Dispatch boat through the Spanish-American War. The effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the states. Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment. Finally a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healthy condition and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. Today I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading insurance company pronounced me "A" risk.

Peruna cures catarrah of the kidneys, of the bladder, liver and other pelvic organs, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. No other systemic catarrh remedy has yet been devised. Insist upon having Peruna. There are no medicines that can be substituted.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has fonud permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

A writer in a recent number of "The House Beautiful" summed up the subject of house furnishment in the following brief paragraphs:

"Buy slowly and after definite thought.

"Choose for permanency.

"Choose good lines, good colors, and good designs always, and as a primary consideration. Buy for simplicity, strength and beauty in the order named.

"Always select things that will harmonize with many others.

"Invariably sacrifice the purely ornamental for the comfortable or useful. Do without the things least really or frequently needed, first of all.

"Have a well-studied, well-planned color scheme in mind, and adhere to it; no matter what changes may be found from time to time necessary, keep close to the basic plan.

"Let the furniture and decoration of the home be a clear and fairly representative reflection of the family or personal taste."

It is for just such people—who buy intelligently — who want goods of actual merit, not surface appearance only—that we provide a lavish variety of practical fabrics and articles for home comfort and adornment.

EXAMINATIONS ON FOR LIBRARIANS

Six Young Women Who Want to Take Up Work of the School Course.

THE IS NO OVERCROWDING

Six young women are taking an examination at the Pittsburgh Carnegie library for admittance to a school that is never overcrowded. They desire to fit themselves for a profession which is constantly demanding more qualified followers and the demand for which seems never to be beyond the supply. The examination is for admission to the Carnegie Library Training School for Librarians, children's department.

The examination is on history and general information and literature, and is to determine whether or not the applicants have a sufficient educational groundwork to undertake the following of a two-year course. At the end of the first year a certificate is granted which enables the holder to secure a position, and at the end of the second year a diploma is given which is practically a sure promise of a position, as good librarians are always in demand.

Applicants for membership in the school who have a college diploma are not required to take the examination. The majority of scholars, however, are those who have worked their way through the examination, which is not severe, but, at the same time, is thorough.

The course includes lectures by members of the Carnegie library staff on loan work, children's department work, cataloguing work, classification and other technical subjects. Librarians from other cities will also deliver lectures during the course on subjects upon which they are particularly well informed.

In addition to the course of lectures, each student does practical work in the main and branch libraries and in the home and school libraries. One strange thing about the children's department is that it is entirely given up to young women. No young men have ever applied for admission to the school, although there is no line drawn and young men would be admitted if they presented their college diplomas or stood the entrance examination.

A librarian in the children's department is paid from $600 to $1,500 a year, depending upon what library it is and the individual work of the librarian. It is a profession in which the members must stand strictly upon their own merits. The young woman who has the faculty of getting interested in children and interesting them in her enough to accept her as their guide, then who couples with this sufficient wisdom to lead them in literary paths that will prove a benefit and a blessing to them, is the one who makes a successful librarian. The woman who merely takes it up as a money-making business will never succeed. It is a serious calling and requires as many special attributes of character as does that of a successful school teacher, doctor, nurse, or preacher.

Carnegie library is particularly blessed with the young women in the children's department. Without exception they are pleasant, bright and fully alive to the responsibilities of their positions. Their work is done in a thorough and painstaking manner, and no library in the country is producing better results in its juvenile section today than is Pittsburgh's.

SOPHOMORES LAY DOWN RULES FOR FRESHMEN

Posters Printed in Green Give Some Magnanimous Advice to New Class at Western University.

Throughout the Western university buildings and grounds, and that section of Allegheny where students roam, there were posted last night copies of a code of conduct laid down by the sophomore class for the freshmen. It is explained in the green poster that the code is given in "an explosion of magnanimity toward that aggregation of infants known as the class of 1908."

The code consists of eight rules. Among them are the following:

Rebel not against the "by-laws" as compiled by our "board of millionaire trustees who never give a cent." They are for your good and as enforced by "Uncle Dan" and his able lieutenants "mother" and "Willie Horse" should be the guiding light of your lives.

Smile not at nor hold any conversation with the dreamy-eyed, bewitching members of the co-ed. department. They are the distinctive prey of the upper class men.

Use no tobacco nor affect the wearing of stiff hats or canes. Uncle Alec is the only dude the university can support.

As he is the most popular member of the faculty it is the custom to treat dear old Ferdinand as befits a Christian gentleman. He is our shining star, and the only representative of the muse in our institution. (It is customary to present him with two dozen Milwaukee's Best each Yuletide.)

Refrain from surreptitious intercourse with the juniors. Their specialty is the corruption of just such mush-brained babes as yourselves.

Be careful about lingering around the gymnasium at undue seasons. There is always danger of the shower bath being in working order.

Westmoreland U. P. Presbytery.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Fifty ministers attended the opening session of the Westmoreland presbytery of the United Presbyterian church today. The Rev. S. P. McBride of Sewickley opened the session with prayer, and in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Collins of Allegheny, the Rev. William McBride, as the oldest member of the presbytery, acted as moderator. The Rev. J. R. Ricketts of Wilmerding, as clerk, read the minutes of the Mt. Pleasant meeting. The Revs. A. W. Colwell and J. Gerard Houston were appointed to assist the Rev. J. Walker of McKeesport in evangelistic work.

ANOTHER DREW PENSION IN HIS NAME FOR YEARS

Application of Aged Negro Veteran of Civil War Brings to Light Fact That the Government Has Been Long Defrauded.

After waiting 40 years before asking financial relief of Uncle Sam, in recognition of faithful services in the civil war, and then only when decrepit with age and enfeebled in health, John W. Collins, aged 70, a negro of Bradford, Pa., applied for a pension, only to find that another negro had been drawing a pension of $12 a month for 12 years in his name.

United States Deputy Marshal William M. Henry learned this story yesterday when he went from Pittsburgh to Bradford to serve a summons, issued by District Attorney James S. Young, to compel Collins to appear before United States Commissioner A. S. Taylor in Washington, D. C., on September 22, as a witness against David Flood, alias George Wood, the negro who is alleged to have been drawing the pension money due Collins. The case illustrates how easy it is to defraud the government with hundreds of thousands of pensioners on the roll and many thousands of others who are eligible to pensions.

A few months ago Collins applied for a pension on the ground of disability. He received a prompt answer from the pension authorities at Washington to the effect he was already drawing a pension. Collins was amazed at this and wrote back to the officials he was not drawing a pension and had never applied for one until then, although he had served three years in the civil war and had received an honorable discharge.

It was not long until a pension inspector appeared in Bradford and threatened the aged negro with arrest. The old man was loud and earnest in his professions of innocence. He was taken to Washington by the inspector, and while there the negro who was drawing the pension in Collins' name was arrested and confronted by Collins. Collins declared he had never seen Flood before and could not understand how Flood had learned of his name and war record. Flood claims that he got the pension through an attorney in Washington, and the pension officials believe they have discovered a fraud that has been practiced successfully on a large scale at the national capital for many years. The records of the pension department, including the names of all old soldiers eligible to pensions, have been open to the public and lists of names of those eligible have been distributed by the pension bureau until recently, when it was stopped by Pension Commissioner Eugene Ware because of discovered frauds. It is the belief of the government officials that there have been many such victims as Collins.

NEGRO MURDERER WANTS TO DIE

Stops Attorney from Asking Commutation of Sentence by Pardon Board.

LAWYER MUST LET HIM HANG

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 20.

With every prospect of gaining a reprieve, and eventually a commutation to a short term of imprisonment, James Oscar Webb, under death sentence for the murder of his wife and mother-in-law, declared today in his cell at Mayamensing prison that he wished to die, and by his own act cut off his one chance of escaping the gallows.

The negro's attorney, Michael A. Spatola, was to go before the board of pardons, now in session at Harrisburg, and argue for a commutation of the death sentence. He went to the county prison today with all the documents needing the convicted man's signature. He found Webb seated in the corner of his cell humming a hymn.

"Everything is now arranged," said the lawyer, exuberently; "the district attorney seems to favor the commutation of your sentence, and the governor will probably grant you a reprieve."

"I understand what you mean all right," said Webb, slowly. "You needn't bother about it any more. I don't want to get out. I don't want to stay in jail, either. I just want to die on the gallows, as they said I was to die."

The attorney tried to argue with the man, but to no avail. Late this afternoon he said there was nothing for him to do but to accede to his client's request. He will be hanged October 28.

FITZPATRICK WILL SAY NOTHING ON SITUATION

Trainmen's Grievances Are Still Held Up Pending Manager Peck's Return to the City.

Valentine Fitzpatrick, third grand president of the Railway Trainmen's organization, still maintains a silence as to what demands the trainmen of the Fort Wayne are going to make of the Pennsylvania Company. His mere presence here, however, is occasioning much comment and surmise in railway circles. He is known to have the authority to call a strike, and until he issues a statement neither the railway nor shipping interests may be said to maintain a normal condition.

When approached yesterday, Fitzpatrick again said: "I have as yet nothing to give out which will be of interest to the public." He absolutely refused to discuss any feature of the situation. It was reported yesterday Fitzpatrick had gone to Cleveland, but he did not leave this city. Instead he held several conferences at the Seventh avenue hotel with the local members of the O. R. T. Mr. Fitzpatrick, it is said, will not personally appear before the officials of the Pennsylvania. The grievance committee of the Fort Wayne system will take up negotiations with the Pennsylvania when General Manager Peck returns. And the committee will appear as employes of the company, not as representing any union, and according to the established policy of the road, will receive a hearing.

There is said to be no possibility of the trainmen's organization rushing rashly into a strike. The order has recently become one of the most conservative labor unions and its officers will exhaust all possible means toward securing an amicable settlement.

Hunting for Car Wreckers.

The detective force of the Pittsburgh Railways Company is hunting the persons who attempted to wreck a car on the Mt. Lebanon line about 11:30 o'clock Monday night. As the car rounded the curve at the Espy farm switch, the motorman saw a pile of ties and rocks in the track. He was able to stop in time to prevent the car being thrown over a high bank.

Thieves Were Particular.

Two particular thieves entered the clothing store of B. Kann, Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks, Monday night. They tried on a half-dozen suits of clothes and 15 or 20 pairs of shoes until they got something to fit them. They took a suit case each, filling them with underclothing, shirts, collars, socks, neckties, etc.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find 'Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing.' This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician, and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fag, a 10 days' trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a reason," and trial proves.

FORMER ENEMIES MEET TO HOLD JOINT REUNION

The survivors of the Fifty-fourth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, will hold their annual reunion at Johnstown October 4 and 5. The regiment was largely recruited from Allegheny and Cambria counties. There are almost a score of old soldiers who formerly lived in Johnstown, but came to Braddock in 1874 to work in the Edgar Thomson Steel works. Chief of Police Bennett of Braddock, one of the officers of the regiment, has arranged for transportation for all the members of the Braddock and Pittsburgh district to the reunion. Survivors of the One Hundred and Thirty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, and of a confederate regiment from Virginia will also take part.

BERNALILLO COUNTY STATESMAN IN TOWN

Senator Andrews Receives Congratulations on His Nomination as Delegate from New Mexico.

Senator W. H. Andrews of Bernalillo county, New Mexico, is at the Schenley receiving congratulations on his nomination as the Republican candidate for territorial delegate in congress. He carries the new honor gracefully and is satisfied that he will be elected by a majority of 16,000.

The senator did not care to discuss territorial politics. He says that the nomination came to him as a surprise, as he had not thought of being a candidate until two days before the convention. He will stay in Pittsburgh for about two weeks looking after his business interests and will then return to New Mexico in time to take part in the closing days of the campaign.

With a seat in congress, Delegate Andrews will be in better shape to look after the statehood bill. He is now a member of the territorial senate and his election as delegate will put him in line for the United States senatorial toga, if he is successful in having New Mexico admitted as a state.

BOARD OF TRADE IN ANGRY MOOD

Councils Will Probably Be Petitioned to Enact Universal Transfer Law for Street Cars.

COMMITTEE TAKES NEW TACK

The refusal of the Pittsburgh Railways Company to extend the transfer system in the East End will probably lead to the introduction in councils of an ordinance to compel the company to issue transfers from one line to another in all parts of the city. The committee that reported Monday night to the East End board of trade that the traction officials refused to grant any concessions, is considering such a step. The first thing to be done, however, will be the securing of a legal opinion as to whether such a bill would be legal. Instead of merely asking additional transportation facilities in the East End the board of trade is in a mood to demand much more radical concessions.

J. W. Wallace, who made the report to the board of trade, said yesterday President J. D. Callery had declared the transfer system was "iniquitous" and not only said the transfer system would not be extended, but ought to be curtailed. Mr. Wallace said a demand was made upon the company for better car service as well as for more transfers. For one thing, he said, the cars out Liberty avenue run only every 20 minutes and there is practically no district in the East End that can be reached by a transfer except Highland park.

Transfers Refused on Cross Lines.

Transfers are not issued, he said, from Penn avenue, Center or Ellsworth avenues, to South Highland avenue, South Negley avenue nor from Penn avenue, either north or south. People coming west from Wilkinsburg cannot get transfers from Penn avenue to Frankstown avenue, Lincoln avenue or Larimer avenue. These points and others were named in the list of transfers which the committee presented to the traction officials.

"We saw Mr. Callery, the president of the company," said Mr. Wallace, "and he said that our requests were perfectly reasonable and he did not think there would be the slightest trouble in granting what we asked for. He referred the matter to Vice President Tone. That was last winter. We waited for a while, thinking that the company was getting the transfers ready, but finding no signs of them we made another trip to see Mr. Callery and this time an entirely new man was brought into the matter. Mr. Callery said that General Superintendent John Murphy would take the matter up with us. That was in June.

"Last Friday we talked with Mr. Callery again and he told us curtly the company would not accede to our requests. He did not explain why, but declared the decision was final. I so reported to the board of trade Monday night.

"This is not the end of the matter, however. We are considering the question and will take up the advisability of seeking relief from councils."

Board of Trade Determined.

The East End board of trade is rapidly growing in strength and is composed of an influential and enthusiastic membership which is advocating a number of important municipal reforms. Nearly all of the East End councilmen are members and they are expected to agitate the transfer reform in councils. At this particular time, when the Pittsburgh Railways Company is asking for additional franchises from councils, the efforts of the East End councilmen toward securing a universal transfer system may bear fruit.

J. D. Callery, president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, denies the statement made in the board of trade meeting Monday night, that the transfer system in the East End is to be curtailed. He admits, however, he refused to grant an extension of transfers and informed the committee from the East End board of trade that the transfer system would remain as it is.

"The board of trade," he said, "asked that transfers be issued from one line to another going in the same direction. This we refused to grant. The demands related only to the East End car lines that cross each other, but run in the same general direction. For instance, it was proposed to give a person going from the downtown to the East End a transfer to another line going in the same direction which he might take downtown. We do not propose to extend the transfer system, but there will be no curtailment of transfers on any of our lines."

Capital Idea Is This.

FRICK COKE COMPANY HAS ORDERED ALL OVENS FIRED

Connellsville Region to Resume Its Activity—Republic Iron & Steel Company Lets Contract for Structural Mill at Youngstown.

Two announcements indicative of the improvement being made in the iron and steel business in this district were made yesterday. One was the awarding of the contract for a new structural mill to be built by the Republic Iron and Steel Company at the Brown-Bonnell plant, in Youngstown, and the other was an order of the H. C. Frick Coke Company to place all available ovens in the region in operation at once.

The contract for the Republic's structural mill has been awarded to the Lloyd-Booth department of the United Engineering and Foundry Company. The cost of the mill is estimated at $250,000, and the plans provide for one of the most complete structural mills in the country.

It is said on what is considered reliable authority, that the structural mill is but part of the extensive projects of the Republic company for its Youngstown group. A wire mill, a sheet mill and a tube mill are claimed to be projected as well, and part of the proposed issue of $10,000,000 of bonds is to cover the cost of these works. These bonds will retire existing bonds and leave a balance sufficient to meet the cost of the new projects.

The dispute between the Republic company and the United States Steel Corporation, following the conversion deal with the Pittsburgh Steel Company, is supposed to have much to do with the Republic entering these lines of finished steel production. The company controlling all its needs in the way of coal, coke, limestone and ore, and operating its own furnaces and steel plants, needs only finishing mills sufficient to use all its surplus billet production to render it a first-class competitor of the Steel Corporation in every respect.

The activity which has started in the pig iron industry is shown by the order of the Frick Coke Company, which was issued yesterday throughout the coke region, to place all available ovens in operation. Last week the company had 2,500 ovens idle. Each of the last three weeks has been marked by the firing of ovens of the company, which is taking also a certain amount of coke from independent producers. The shutdown of a large number of the ovens began about four months ago and for three months a relatively small production of the region's capacity was working.

The region has had trouble since its present activity began in securing a sufficient supply of employes. It is said that a number of works carried over about 25 per cent of their product last week, being unable to secure hands to draw the coke. There has also been a shortage of water in the region and this week the car supply has not been as good as was desired.

MANY INSPECT NEW HOSPITAL

St. Joseph's Was on View and $2,500 Was Contributed by the Visitors.

STAFF DOCTORS ALL SELECTED

Five thousand persons visited the new St. Joseph's hospital on the South Side yesterday and before 11 p. m. $2,500 had been given to the sisters who sat at the door to receive voluntary contributions. It was supposed that there would be many visitors, but the sisters were agreeably surprised at the large sum contributed.

The hospital, 2117 Carson street, formerly the residence of the late Peter Haberman, later occupied by the Young Men's Christian association, has been remodeled at a cost of $5,000. There is room for 50 patients, and although the present building is considered only a temporary structure, it has been fitted up completely as if it were to be the permanent hospital.

The Ladies' Aid society has decorated the rooms with palms and ferns, flowers and vines. Refreshments were served in the dining room and in the front room Kreil's orchestra entertained visitors all the afternoon and evening. A program of vocal and instrumental music was given, the entertainers being William A. Davis, Miss Lizzie Davis, Miss Lillian Semmelrock and the Misses McCrory.

The hospital will be managed by the sisters of St. Joseph, under the direction of Mother Genevieve, who has been appointed superintendent. The following staff has been announced:

Surgical staff—Dr. Otto C. Gaub, Dr. John P. Saling and Dr. Moses Schonfeld; medical staff, Dr. B. R. Wood, Dr. A. K. Hampsey and Dr. T. P. Cochran; gyneologist, Dr. James P. Kerr, whose assistants will be Dr. D. R. Evans and Dr. W. C. Lang; eye and ear, Dr. W. H. Kirk, whose associates will be Dr. E. A. Weisser and Dr. J. L. Duncan; alienist, Dr. C. C. Hersman; proctologist, Dr. Charles H. Hertzog, and laryngologist, Dr. G. Arthur Dillinger.

The St. Josephs hospital project was taken up more than two years ago, but languished for awhile after the legislature declined to lend aid in starting the scheme, there being nothing tangible for the legislature to recognize. Later, the directors of the South Side hospital considered the election of Sister Dunlevy as superintendent, but Sister Dunlevy declined the appointment, much feeling having been aroused. Then a number of business men and physicians of the South Side took up the original scheme again. A sub-committee of clergymen was appointed and the Haberman mansion was bought for $19,000.

Traffic Shows a Marked Increase Over That of the Past Half-Year

Railroad men are watching with much interest the growth in traffic and earnings which began to be apparent about August 1, and is continuing with prospects that this fall will be an unusually busy one for nearly all lines, not only in this section, but throughout the country. The report of an increase in gross and net earnings of the Panhandle in August was particularly noted as an indication of the improvement in the Pittsburgh district. On all the lines surrounding the city this was the case the past month. At the shops and on the road a full complement of men are engaged and in some classes of traffic there is a distinct shortage of cars.

The dullness in traffic for the preceding few months has given the railroads an opportunity to put much of their equipment in good shape. Engines have been taken to shops, repaired thoroughly and allowed to wait until the demand came for their use. This demand has arrived and there is not so much trouble in the present large movement from inefficient motive power as was the case in former years when there was no chance to repair engines properly.

The improvement in the passenger business, attracted by the St. Louis world's fair, has been marked. It is practically doubling this month the records of July and August, and the railroads are receiving a return for their heavy investments in special equipment and in advertising. Up to this month St. Louis has been a great disappointment from a passenger earnings standpoint. It is believed that the rush will continue right up to the time of the closing of the fair, December 1.

Coal From Wabash Lines Goes West.

About 100 cars of coal from the mines along the West Side Belt started west over the Wabash yesterday. The greater part of the coal was destined to Huron, the main lake port of the Wabash lines on Lake Erie. From Huron it will be transferred to steamers for delivery to points in the west and northwest. It is the intention of the Wabash interests to develop the harbor facilities at Huron as rapidly as the traffic justifies.

Interstate Commerce Meeting.

E. P. Bacon, chairman of the executive committee of the Interstate Commerce Law congress, has issued a call for a convention to be held in St. Louis October 28. It is addressed to commercial, mercantile, manufacturing and agricultural organizations throughout the United States. The purpose of the convention is to devise measures to secure the enactment of legislation at the next session of congress to give greater effectiveness to the interstate commerce act.

Railroad Notes.

The new station of the Wabash at Bridgeville was put into use yesterday. A temporary station has been used there since traffic was started on the line.

E. P. H. Harrison, assistant engineer of construction of the Baltimore & Ohio, has resigned to engage in private business, and J. L. Crider has been transferred from Baltimore to Pittsburgh to take his place.

G. W. Innes, formerly engineer on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been appointed assistant road foreman of engineers on the river and low grade division of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division.

Vice President J. R. Thayer and a corps of engineering and operating officials started from Pittsburgh yesterday morning on an inspection of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley grand division og the Pennsylvania railroad.

W. P. Deppe, chief assistant general passenger agent of the Big Four, and one of the most popular and widely known representatives of the company, has tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1. Mr. Deppe will retire from railroad life, and, coming to New York, will be associated with a Wall street firm.

TRUE LOVE HAS A ROCKY ROAD

Pride of Descent and Two Brothers Separate a Magyar Maiden and Sweetheart.

ROMANCE IN LARKINS ALLEY

Pride of descent has played Stanislaus Trbovicz a sorry trick. Just because he disputed the dictum that to be descended from Magyar yeomanry is preferrable to Slovack birth and ancestry, he is minus $148 and out a girl. With Trbovicz it is either the money or the girl, although the languishing looks he cast yesterday at the windows of the house in which his inamorata reposes, demonstrated beyond a doubt to sympathizing Slav maids and matrons that if he gets the girl the money can go hang.

Almost all day yesterday a policeman stood within easy reaching distance of 2620 Larkins alley, South Side, but he, too, decined to interfere with Trbovicz's vigil, for the man was doing no harm and it was no policeman's business if he did watch for a chance to see the girl whom he had expected to marry. The policeman was ordered by his superiors to keep an eye on the Larkins alley house, on the allegation that Trbovicz wanted to break in carry off a girl.

The beginning of the story dates back 14 years ago. Trbovicz's family was of the peasant class, hard working farmers, in Hungary. To the village school went children of the peasants and of the Magyar yeomanry. Both classes are cultivators of the soil, but the peasants are descended from the Slavs vanquished by the Huns 1,000 years ago, the Magyars being offspring of those same Hunnish conquerors. Their occupations and their fortunes were the same, but the Magyars had blood. At the village school Trbovicz met Mary Mamula, Magyar, and many a time she partook of his school lunch, the piece de resistance being goulash, smartly flavored with paprika.

With an eye to the future, young Trbovicz got the goulash recipe from his mother and imparted it to Mary. Mary and Trbovicz were the only pupils in the school who never quarreled concerning those battles a millennium old.

Thirteen years ago Trbovicz came to America, following his brother, John, who has since become a substantial grocer of Sarah street, near South Twenty-sixth. In the course of time the younger man became a successful bartender, saving his money, with a home for Mary as the goal to which he aspired. Here in Pittsburgh he met Mary's two brothers, Bojo and Bela, and they became warm friends, the brothers assuring him, so he avers, of their approval of his intention to call Mary bride.

About six weeks ago Trbovicz sent his dear Mamula $148 from his savings. The $1.50 rate from the German ports was in vogue, but Trbovicz, with proper pride, commanded Mary to use at least $48 to pay her transportation charges, the balance was to go for clothes.

Last Wednesday Bojo and Bela happened to be in the barroom in which Trbovicz is the genial dispenser. There, it is alleged, they made disparaging remarks about the Slavs, maligning even Kossuth and praising Rakoozy as the greatest hero of mankind. Of course, that made Trbovicz angry and he and the two brothers quarreled. On Thursday Bajo received a telegram from Mary, saying that she had arrived and so, without telling Trbovicz, he went to New York and brought his sister here, installing her in Larkins alley. Trbovicz heard on Saturday that she had arrived and, ardent lover-like, hurried to the house. He emerged far quicker even than he entered. He was thrown out, so he put it to his brother John.

On Sunday and Monday Trbovicz tried his utmost to penetrate to Mary's presence, but somebody always barred his way. He has been assured that the girl does not want to marry him, but he is loath to believe her faithless and demands to see her face to face.

DEATH OF LANG IS A MYSTERY

First Report That of Poisoning, but Coroner Said End Was Caused by Paralysis.

YESTERDAY'S VIOLENT DEATHS

George Lang, aged 70, father of Select Councilman William Lang of the Thirty-first ward, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Annie Jones, 134 Maple alley, yesterday afternoon. Whether death was due to carbolic acid poisoning or paralysis has not yet been definitely determined. Lang had been ill since last June, when he was stricken with a paralytic stroke.

When the case was first reported Deputy Coroner Samuel O'Brien made an investigation and from the evidence obtained reported Lang had taken carbolic acid with suicidal intent. Later in the evening Coroner McGeary said this was all a mistake and that Lang's death was due to a paralytic stroke.

Mrs. Annie Jones told Deputy O'Brien that her father got up yesterday morning about 9 o'clock and after taking a bath went to his room. As he did not come down for breakfast she went to the room. She found him lying partly on the bed and floor, unconscious. Beside him was found an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid. Dr. C. H. Williams was called in and worked over him till he died at 3:20 o'clock. The doctor's report gave death as due to a toxic dose of carbolic acid, but Undertaker W. S. Allen, while preparing the body, says he found no trace of the acid.

Lang was well known in Mt. Washington and Knoxville. He was formerly a policeman and was first appointed on the department by Mayor Robert Liddell in 1881. He was continued on the bureau until several years ago. Last year he was employed by the city as a sanitary policeman.

Michael McHughs, aged 40, of South Main street, West End, fell out of the second story window of his home yesterday morning and died from his injuries at 6 o'clock last night. He was removing some screens and lost his balance.

Pasquale Madon, an Italian, aged 40, died at the Western penitentiary yesterday afternoon from consumption. He was committed from this county for five years for manslaughter.

John Malach, who was arrested Monday night in connection with the death of Mrs. Catherine Caban of 3009 Mulberry alley, August 7, was committed to jail yesterday by Coroner McGeary, to await the result of an inquest.

William Olsols, aged 35, of Natrona, died at that place yesterday from injuries received Monday by falling off his wagon. His skull was fractured. He was employed at the Pennsylvania salt works.

William Murphy, aged 38, of 81 Forest street, West Homestead, died at the St. Francis hospital yesterday from alcoholism.

MORE CARS FOR HILL-TOPPERS.

Theater Car on Charleroi Division and Shorter Service on the Suburban.

To meet the demands for increased travel on the Charleroi division, the Pittsburgh Railways Company has put a theater car on its up-river route. The car began running last night, and will leave the head of the Knoxville incline every night, except Sunday, at 11:30 o'clock. Heretofore the last Charleroi car left at 10:07 p. m. and this was not late enough for the people living along the route to reach home after attending the theaters. The theater car reaches Allenport at 1:30 a. m., making the long trip of 31 miles in two hours.

At the other end of the line a car has been put on to leave Allenport at 11:30 p. m., arriving in Pittsburgh at 1:20 a. m. On Sunday night the last car will leave Pittsburgh at 11:07.

Four more cars have been added to the Suburban line during the rush hours. This will give patrons of that line a four-minute instead of a six-minute service in Forbes street and down town. These, with the "trippers" between Forbes and Brady streets and Carrick, will make a three-minute service south of Forbes street.

M'FALL GAINS ON OPPONENTS

Sewickley Baptist Congregation Refused to Vote Against the Former Pastor Last Night.

MET BEHIND LOCKED DOORS

At a congregational meeting in the Sewickley Baptist church, called last evening for the purpose of discussing charges against the Rev. C. E. McFall, former pastor of the church, the members refused to indorse the attitude of the leaders in the movement against Mr. McFall.

The doors of the church were locked, while the charges were discussed. Only members of the church in good standing were admitted to the meeting, which was called last Sunday morning at the regular service by Frank Moorewood, of the board of trustees. Last evening Mr. Moorewood made a formal charge of continued prevarication against Mr. McFall.

The accusation was thus brought before the congregation in order to determine the attitude of the church toward Mr. McFall. In reply to the charge the former pastor made a strong statement in self defense, with the result that when Frank Handy made a motion that the congregation sustain the charge made by Mr. Moorewood, the motion failed of adoption.

Another motion was offered that the congregations of all the Sewickley churches meet jointly and pass upon the charges against Mr. McFall. It was urged that the judgment of the several congregations would be impartial. This motion, too, was lost, and the meeting adjourned without taking any action.

After the announcement of the meeting last Sunday Mr. McFall, who was sitting in the church, left his seat and a few minutes later fainted.

Mrs. McFall, who separated from her husband several months ago, was in the church building last evening, but took no part in the meeting. It is stated that Mr. McFall will soon go to Indian territory, where he spent part of the summer, and there procure papers to help him in securing a vindication. His recent troubles are said to have told seriously on his health. Another meeting in the Baptist church may be arranged.

REFUSED TO INDORSE SABBATH ASSOCIATION

Allegheny Presbytery Would Not Pass Resolution Approving Sabbath Crusade and It Was Withdrawn.

Allegheny presbytery of the Presbyterian church yesterday refused to pass a resolution indorsing the movement of the Sabbath Observance association. After a long discussion the resolution was withdrawn.

There were nearly 200 ministers at the meeting held in the First Presbyterian church, Arch street. The Rev. W. A. Rouiston of Bellevue presided. Seven commissioners were named to attend the synod at Oxford, Pa., in October, as follows: The Revs. J. E. Ramsey, T. M. Thompson, W. P. Carroway, T. Ross Paden and Messrs. Edward Wright, C. G. Leslie and G. I. Wilson. It was decided to establish a new mission for negroes in the Second ward of Allegheny.

There were fully a dozen ministers who were opposed to the presbytery having anything to do with the Sabbath observance matter. It was argued that the Presbyterian church, as a church, would be committed to the movement if the resolution was passed and they were opposed to putting the church in a position which might prove a false one. They believed that any action taken in this line should be by individuals and not by the church as a body.

The Rev. T. J. Coxe, who has been engaged for mission work, was admitted to the presbytery.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The annual meeting of the New York and New England English synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church is in session here. Fifty congregations are represented. The Rev. M. S. Waters of Newark, N. J., secretary, and J. F. Dinkey of Rochester, treasurer, were re-elected.

TIBETAN TREATY ANGERS RUSSIA

Ambassador Is Instructed to Lodge a Protest With the British Government.

LATTER WILL KEEP FAITH

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.—Russia officially maintains that Great Britain has broken faith in the matter of the Tibetan treaty and Ambassador Benkendorff has been instructed to lodge a general protest at the British foreign office. According to the Russian view, Great Britain's pledges to Russia only contemplated the regulation of trade between Indian and Tibet and she disclaimed any purpose to meddle with the internal or political affairs of the country. Instead of so doing, Russia claims that a treaty was forced upon the Tibetans which created a virtual protectorate over the country. Moreover it is contended the treaty is a restriction upon the sovereignty of China, compelling Tibet to consult Great Britain in its dealings with other powers. This is considered to be aimed directly at Russia. The protest lodged in London doubtless will be folowed up by one at Pekin against the ratification of the treaty. Little hope is entertained in official circles that the Russian protests will be heeded either by Great Britain or China, as Russia is not in a position to make an issue, but may be in the future. The Russian press is bitter in its comments.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The foreign office reiterates that the assurances given the United States, that there will be no permanent occupation of any portion of Tibetan territory, will be observed.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—After losing the first game by one run, the best the Pirates could do at Washington park, Brooklyn, against Hanlon's "surprises" this afternoon, in a double-header, was to tie the second game, 1 to 1, the final function being called as per agreement at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness, still leaving the two teams five games to play, which is doubtful, as the stay of the Pittsburghs in Brooklyn is only for two days more.

Both games were played under lowering clouds and on one or two occasions rain threatened to stop the opening game. The second game was started under even more unfavorable surroundings as the light was very poor, and rain was also threatened during the contest.

In the first game Case was unfortunate in that he had one bad inning, during which the home team got to him for three hits, which netted them three runs and gave them a commanding lead. In the ninth inning, however, the visitors came near winning the game, but a quick double play, with one hand out, of Jordan and Dillon ended the game.

In the first inning of the second game Gilbert beat out an infield hit by fast sprinting. After Beaumont struck out Ritchey singled. Leach followed with another on which Gilbert scored. Ritchey in going to third fell down and was touched out by Babb. Leach was caught trying to steal second. After this not a visitor got beyond second and Mitchell kept the remaining hits pretty well distributed.

The locals got their only run in the first inning. Dillon got a base on balls. After Gessler flied to Gilbert, Lumley was sent to base on balls, Sheckard singled and Dillon scored. Babb grounded to Bransfield, who stepped on the bag and quickly threw to Archer, nailing Lumley at the plate. Brooklyn nearly won the game in the fifth. Batch, first man up, tripled. The next three batters died at first on stops and throws by Leach and Kruger, leading Batch at third. Scores:

ANGRY ROOTERS CAUSED RIOT AT POLO GROUNDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A riot, during which 500 Polo grounds patrons kicked at the doors of the box offices and threatened President John T. Brush with bodily injury, and to quell which it was necessary to call the police, took place this afternoon upon the refusal of the club to refund the money paid for admission when the Giants-Cincinnati game was called off on account of rain.

Not a ball was pitched when time for the game to begin arrived. The spectators had been given rain checks when they entered the gate, which were to be used at the next game.

When it was announced that no game would be played the Polo grounds patrons demanded that the money paid for admission be refunded. This was refused. Then the fans gathered around the box offices and began to raise a row. President Brush came from the clubhouse and tried to restore quiet, but the angry spectators gathered around him, and with shouts of "thief" and "robber" drove him back to the clubhouse.

When it began to look as though the rioters would do considerable damage to property, the management called for the police and some clubbing quieted the most obstreperous of the fans. Then the management decided to refund the money demanded and the rain checks were redeemed. Some of the patrons had been given no checks when they entered the grounds, and that fact complicated matters. Finally, after a long argument, in which a show of force on the part of purchasers of tickets helped a great deal, it was decided to give back the admission money to all who applied.

BARNEY OLDFIELD WILL RIDE IN AUTO RACES

The most daring of all dare-devil automobile drivers, Barney Oldfield, is coming to Pittsburgh for the races of the local Automobile club at Brunots island, Friday and Saturday of next week.

C. E. Turner, who is looking after the initial venture of the Pittsburgh Auto club in the racing field, received word from Oldfield yesterday that he would be here not only as a competitor on both days in the various events, but to establish a record for the Brunots track that will go as a landmark for probably years in the future. Oldfield writes Mr. Turner that he has fully recovered from the accident in St. Louis some time ago, and that he is feeling in excellent health and spirits.

Auto racing is something new in Pittsburgh, though it has caught on with a rush in Detroit, Cleveland, Denver, New York and in many other of the large cities. Several years ago efforts were made to hold automobile races at Schenley park, but the track there is not wide enough for extreme speed and the races were not very spirited.

At Brunots island the track is 35 feet wide the entire mile and the drivers will be able to hit up a faster clip than on any other track in the country. The members of the Automobile club are very much enthused over the coming meeting which will bring to Pittsburgh all of the great flyers and the sport promises to catch on here as it has in the other cities. There are eight events on the card for each day and the list will be given out in a day or so.

Will Hold a Field Meet.

The Olympia A. A. of Allegheny will hold its annual field meet on its grounds, Brighton road, next Saturday. The Olympians have had a successful season, winning the championship of Allegheny, and have a record of 25 victories, five defeats and one tie. The program for field day will include a masquerade ball game and several athletic events.

FINISHES WERE CLOSE IN GRAND CIRCUIT EVENTS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Showers and a heavy wind interfered with the second day's Grand Circuit racing, but the majority of the heats were fought out from wire to wire.

Our Fall Fashion Review

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Today we announce the formal opening of our Autumn fashions for women, misses and children. Our doors will swing wide upon the most auspicious exposition of clever modes which this store—or this city—has ever seen. This event marks the culmination of months and months of most active preparations. Since last season great improvements have been made in this establishment, and it is to a new and remodeled store, with stocks more beautiful than ever, that we cordially invite every reader of this paper. The formal opening days are Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and we urge upon you this hearty welcome, believing that you will be pleased and interested in the strides we have made to make this the model store of Western Pennsylvania.

DURING the past few months most extensive improvements and alterations have been made in our store—in fact thousands and thousands of dollars have been recently spent in entire renovation of our building—making it one of the most up-to-date shopping centers in the country. We wish to thank the public for their forbearance during the inconvenience which was attendant upon these rebuilding operations and feel assured that they will realize now that it was all for the improvement and beautifying of this store. On entering the main entrance a broad expanse of wide aisles and rearranged departments greet the visitor. A small fortune has been spent here in new shelving, counters, fixings and cases—all in order to take care of our fast increasing business and provide better facilities for prompt service and pleasurable shopping.

THE convenience of our patrons has been the first consideration on every side—in the first floor, the spacious aisles are a prominent feature—on the second floor, the roomy and magnificent women's apparel departments is one of the sights of the city—on the third floor, the cozy millinery, lingerie and corset sections are inviting in their general attractiveness. Daylight floods every department and vastly increases the satisfaction of buying, while perfect ventilation adds greatly to the comfort of shopping in this store.

NOT only is this store a place of handsome new fixtures and furnishings, but it is also the home of entirely new stocks, presenting a wider range of merchandise than we ever before carried. Our reputation has been built not only on the high quality of our goods, but also through the variety and splendid selections—and this season surpasses all previous ones in point of varied assembly and superb assortments which makes satisfactory buying easy.

ON the first floor the greatest changes have been made, with entirely new fixtures, and new locations of departments. Here will also be found a number of novel features which include a new toilet goods and perfumery department, a complete art embroidery department and the largest notion department in town. Visitors to our store during this opening will find much to interest them in addition to the bewitching millinery and charming fashions in women's attire which are the brilliant and particular stars of this great event.

SOCIETY

THE Brighton Country club is the scene of numerous small social affairs during the early autumn season, scarcely a week going by without some little tea or informal dance being given by the members. Each Saturday afternoon the men hold an impromptu golf tournament at the close of which the women serve tea on the piazzas.

All the women of the club are expected to take part in the women's tournament, which opens tomorrow, when the qualifying round will be played. Sixteen will qualify and continue at match play during the rest of the week, the prizes, two beautiful cups, being awarded at the finals.

Among the women of the club who will play are Miss Jeannette Groves, Miss Clara Armstrong, Miss Bertha Smith, Miss Eva Stoner, Miss Elizabeth Rodgers, Miss Elsie Kiefer, Miss Emma Lindsay, Miss Mary Nicholson, Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Miss Pauline Wachob, Miss Florence James, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. Alfred Kines Grubbs, Miss Nellie Stewart and Mrs. Elliott Rodger, who, with her husband, won the finals in the mixed foursome tournament at club playing against Dr. Harry Schuyler Nicholson and Miss Eva Stoner.

McKown-Hukill.

At Hill Place, the summer home of the bride's parents, the wedding of Miss Margaret McKown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McKown, and Ralph Vincent Hukill took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock. The wedding was an unusually beautiful affair with a color scheme of pink and white. The Rev. William J. Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of this city, was the officiant and the attendants included Mrs. Charles Kellag Hill, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Miss Ella Bigelow Caskey, as maid of honor; little Miss Margaret Nicholson Hill, flower girl, and J. Boyd McKown, as best man.

The bridal gown was an exquisite creation of white net over chiffon and taffeta, with trimmings of dainty French lace. The veil, which had been worn twice before by brides in the family, was caught and fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms, and in her arms the bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Hill wore an elaborate lace robe hung over a delicate shade of lavender, and her flowers were asters, shading from lavender into the prevailing color, pink. Miss Caskey wore a girlish gown of chiffon and Valenciennes lace, and carried white asters, and the little flower girl, in a lace frock and broad ribbon sash of pink, carried pink rosebuds.

Brilliant nasturtiums, contrasting sharply with the dainty white and green of the parlor, were suggestive of the autumn, and masses of palms formed a background for the bridal party. Asparagus springeri was used to decorate the lights and also the retiring room and the double doors. The bridal table was placed in the library and was decorated with roses. Pink geraniums banked the mantel. Small tables at which the guests were served were placed on the piazzas, and a space at the rear was reserved for a smoking room. Japanese lanterns were strung from tree to tree on the lawns. Mr. and Mrs. Hukill will take an eastern trip, returning to be at home after November 1 in Braddock avenue, Brushton.

Wedding Invitations Out Today.

Charles Kelly, of New York, will be his brother's best man and the ushers will include Jarvis E. Williams, Oscar Lepper, Dr. Caspar Long and Harry Lee Blackmore. The church ceremony will be followed by a reception at Mrs. Gleffer's home for relatives and intimate friends of the bridal couple. A pretty little wedding last evening was that of Miss Myrtle Louise Eayre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Eayre and Arthur E. Evans, at which the Rev. Dr. Wallace Tharp, pastor of the First Christian church of Allegheny, officiated. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Louisa Whittaker, Cedar avenue, Allegheny. The bride was given away by her father, and Miss Sarah Evans, a sister of the bridegroom, and Bruce Atkinson were the only attendants. The bride was gowned in white mull and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Evans wore white swiss trimmed with valenciennes lace and her flowers were pink roses.

The decorations were especially dainty, the pretty green parlor having quantities of ferns on its dark mantel. The crystal chandelier was daintily decorated with asparagus and a huge cluster of white asters filled the space in front of the fireplace. Palms formed the background for the wedding party and pink roses decorated the small tables at which the wedding supper was served. After an eastern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Evans will be at home in Ben Avon, having announced at home days after October 15.

At the luncheon covers were laid for 11, the guests in addition to the members of the bridal party including Miss Clara Thompson, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Edna Goldsmith, Mrs. William Brady and Mrs. Clarence Kinehart. Donaldson of this city will be ushers at the wedding. The bride is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Foster of Pittsburgh.

HARWICK MINERS ARE IN TROUBLE

State Making Great Effort to Prevent Disasters Such as at Cheswick.

BANK SUED FOR $100,000

To prevent any repetition of the disaster which wiped out so many lives at Harwick, state mine inspectors are pushing all cases of negligence brought to their notice. Before Judge McClung, in criminal court, George Bekzsa, William Phillips and Steve Shenska were on trial yesterday, charged with a misdemeanor in violating the mining laws by Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham. It is alleged they passed a danger signal with an open lamp in the mines of the Allegheny Coal Company at Harwick on August 4 last. Bekzsa was convicted, Shenska was acquitted but ordered to pay the costs, and when court adjourned the case of Phillips was in the hands of the jury.

The defendants set up the defense plea that when they passed the place where the signal was supposed to be it was down and that when they learned there had been one put up they immediately retired from the vicinity they were told it was dangerous.

C. T. Jones pleaded guilty to stealing some jewelry and money from B. F. Hawkins of Webster avenue and was sent to the workhouse for one year and six months.

Harry Cleveland was sent to the same institution for one year. He pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault and battery on Levy Pryor. The defendant is said to have cut Pryor in the side, the knife puncturing one of the prosecutor's lungs.

Eight cases against J. Henry Jahn, in which indictments have been secured, are on the trial list for today in criminal court. These will probably not be reached until tomorrow, as the cases are at the foot of the list.

William Peebles, trustee, has entered suit against the First National bank of Pittsburgh for $100,000 damages for alleged failure to honor his check when he had funds in the bank. On February 16, 1886, as the statement avers, he had $600 on deposit to his credit in the defendant institution. On February 16, 20 and 21, 1899, he avers he made checks to W. W. Miller for $22 65, H. J. Brittner for $87 50 and Jones & Laughlin, limited, for $17 50. These passed the clearing house but were returned to him marked "N. F.," which meant "No funds." He charges malicious carelessness and says his business, reputation and standing has been greatly impaired. It is alleged it resulted in the belief that he was a man whose checks could not be taken with safety.

The inventory in the estate of the late Charles Atwell, filed yesterday, shows a total valuation of personalty of $188,892. The principal item is 122 shares of Union National bank stock, valued at $125,050.

The will of Wilhelmina Glig, late of Allegheny, divides an $8,000 estate into five shares, one each of which is to go to three daughters, a son and grandchildren. A provision directs that $600 of the son Charles' share be placed in trust for him until he reaches the age of 50 years.

Attorney Daniel Harrison took out letters on the estate of Elizabeth Shields Dickson. Attorney John D. Watson represents the executor.

A jury in common pleas court No. 3 yesterday awarded the plaintiff $2,000 in the suit of Jacob Minsinger and John Howarth against the Chartiers Valley Water Company. The action was to determine the value of property taken by the defendant.

William C. McKinley, for the use of William E. Shields, has entered suit in common pleas court No. 2 against the Damascus Steel Company and the Equitable Trust Company, and the Pennsylvania Steel Refining Company, and the Equitable Trust Company. Precipes only were filed. D. C. Reardon appears as attorney.

Common pleas court No. 1 granted a preliminary injunction against the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company in the equity suit begun by Dennis O'Leary, restraining the defendant from entering upon his property in the First ward. He alleges the property is not needed for a right of way.

Judge McClung filed an opinion dismissing the exceptions filed to his decree in the equity suit of H. F. Dilworth against F. F. Nicola for a one-tenth interest in the options or contract on which H. C. Frick bought the big block of property at the Point. It was agreed by the litigants that the plaintiff was entitled to an interest, but a lawsuit was necessary to create the papers that should pass between them.

The following executions were issued yesterday: J. Ohl vs. F. A. Carsten, $1,188 16; E. Goldberg vs. Regina Klein et al., $62 70.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury retured the following true bills yesterday: Robbery, Michrlo Obuckowski et al.; felonious assault and battery, Antonio Elnquegrani, Harry McGeorge, Edmund Rucker; aggravated assault and battery, Harry McGeorge, Julius Wilmer; assault and battery, Frank Curran, Frank Muisterman, Guisipoe Moroleny, Felix Sokolaski, Edward B. Serage, Thomas Watson; felonious arson, Charles Rosenblatt; horse stealing, J. M. Nisely; embezzlement, Philip C. Bahr; bigamy, Edward L. Bailey; misdemeanor, F. W. Albright, C. Heck, Thomas McCabe, Fred Nagle, Clark Soles, William Griffith, H. F. Yengat; selling liquor illegally, Thomas White (2). A Sudden Twinge

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous substances which are the cause of the disease. It not only purifies the blood but by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, it increases the supply of pure, rich blood which adds to the vigor of every physical organ.

Mr. R. A. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg Co., S. C., writes: "I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

LOW CORN CROP ESTIMATES AFFECT THE STOCK MARKET

James J. Hill Expresses His Belief in the Figures and All Corn and Stock Carrier Issues Decline. Billet Reduction Has Influence.

An expert crop estimate of 1,900,000,000 bushels of corn caused a momentary jump in the corn market on Monday, which was more than lost before the day was over, while the corresponding decline in stocks was partly relieved. But that estimate was reinforced yesterday by the expressed credence of President Hill of the Great Northern railway, and was thus given renewed influence on stocks. The consequence was a decline in prices, which affected not only the corn carriers, but the stock carriers, the grangers, Pacifics, coalers, trunk lines and, in fact, every department of the railroad list.

The scare over the crop probably had a large share also in the weakness in the industrial list, although there were special causes also at work in that department. The estimates of the crop based on conditions past gained added force from the weather reports showing dangerously low temperatures in the northwest and forecasts of frosts for tomorrow over a wide area in the west and northwest. The weekly crop bulletin of the weather bureau was somewhat ambiguous and obscure in its expression, but offered little to cheer the apprehension over either the corn or cotton crops. The determined optimism with which a large speculative element has accepted every suggestion of crop damage for some time past was thus rather severely tried.

The fall in prices which resulted from the first tide of the selling also disclosed the existence of stop-loss orders placed below the market by holders anxious to limit their losses.

Another source of uneasiness seemed to be the announced cut in steel billets and other steel products which was announced after the stock market closed Monday, although this action had been clearly foreseen and accurately foretold for many days past. In fact, some of the recent strength of the steel stocks has been based on the advantages expected to follow this cut in attracting belated orders and fixing the stability of the market. Evidence of intended competition with United States Steel in some finished lines was also an influence on that group.

Amalgamated Copper offered some temporary resistance to the decline due to an advance in grades of copper, but ultimately yielded. A more effective resistance was offered by Union Pacific, which was 1½ over the preceding day at one time late yesterday. It was argued that Union Pacific's corn territory was comparatively safe from frost damage. The movement may also have been intended as a reassurance to some current rumors regarding the health of the head of the system.

It could not be learned that there was any actual calling of loans on the stock exchange, but the tone of the money market plainly continues to harden, and the prospect of retrenched credits was undoubtedly a factor in liquidation of stock holdings.

Declines were fairly uniform at between 1 and 2 points, but wide declines in a few high-grade investment stocks were a feature. Such closely held stocks are easy to bid up for effect in a bull market and the abandonment of protection for the higher level is likely to be significant of the speculative mood of those who advanced the price previously for effect. Missouri Pacific's poor showing of net earnings for July cost it an extreme decline of 2¼. Union Pacific was turned against the bears when they began to cover to take profits in the final dealings and some brisk rallies resulted, but the closing was feverish and unsettled.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $3,965,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The Pittsburgh stock market yesterday was active and, as on previous days, irregular. The prices locally did not show so much variation as in the east, but the depressing effect of the New York dealings was plainly felt here. The steel issues sold off 1⅛ for the common and 1⅝ for the preferred, with dealings of considerable size in each issue. Pittsburgh Coal common was up ¼ at 13⅝ and River Coal preferred advanced a like fraction on a small scale. Luster Mining reached the year's high point, 14, an advance of 1½. On the sale of 100 shares United States Leather common an advance of 2¾ to 9½ was shown. The Crucible issues showed the uncertainty which still surrounds the long-promised statement from the management as to the company's vicissitudes. The common was off ¼ and the preferred ⅜. Manufacturers Light and Heat advanced ¼ on large dealings, closing at the same figure at which all the dealings were made, 36.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The directors of Real Estate Trust Company at their regular meeting held yesterday afternoon fixed the annual dividend on the capital stock at 10 per cent, being an increase of 2 per cent over the former regular annual dividend. The new dividend will be payable in quarterly istallments of 2½ per cent. The first quarterly payment will be made on October 1 to stockholders of record on September 26.

The American Sewer Pipe Company will pay its second regular quarterly dividend of ¾ per cent October 1. Books will close September 21. The stock closed at 21¾ bid and offered at 22 yesterday.

The Iron City Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent payable October 1.

The failure of the promised statement of the directors of the Crucible Steel Company to appear yesterday was a great disappointment. It was said, however, that the statement would be issued in a few days and Friday was mentioned as the time chosen for making it public. There are rumors concerning the character of the document. Some say that it will be accompanied by the declaration of a dividend on the preferred. Others are much more pessimistic concerning the company and its affairs. Its issues weakened yesterday.

Edward G. Hartje and John M. Hastings were elected directors of the Equitable Trust Company yesterday afternoon.

The Carnegie Steel Company has increased its output of pig iron to the extent of at least 100,000 tons a month, it is stated by one of the leading iron brokerage houses in its market letter, which adds:

"We find conditions even more encouraging than last week and it seems that the whole iron and steel industry is settling down to a much firmer basis. There is no doubt that pig iron consumption is increasing daily, with furnace stocks decreasing, notwithstanding that quite a number of idle stacks have been blown in. The general impression seems to be that by the first of the year conditions will be on quite a satisfactory basis and the present indications would seem to warrant this opinion."

Wheat more than regained Monday's losses on unexpected strength at Minneapolis and in the Liverpool cables which drove shorts to cover. The advance at Liverpool was attributed to the failure of the Platta arrivals to grade standard, and delivery on contract. Continental demand was also reported good. On the advance, trade was chiefly professional and prices were very nervous, but gains were maintained. Minneapolis reported the bulk of the arrivals as low grade and the southwest reported a good demand for flour from Chicago and Ohio points. Crop news will soon cease to be an important factor and the supply and demand situation will come more prominently to the front.

The Canada Car Company, in which officials of the Pressed Steel Car Company are interested, have purchased a 35-acre site for a car plant on the outskirts of Montreal. The site fronts on the main line of the Grand Trunk. Officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific have become identified with the new company which will assure the company's getting a large percentage of the business of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

James L. Horning of Pittsburgh now at Council, Idaho, sends the following clipping from the "Weiser World:"

Manager F. Macey of the Iron Springs Mining Company has received word of the shipment from Chicago of the big cyanide mill which the company will erect upon its property at Iron Springs. The plant weighs 500,000 pounds and requires six or seven cars for its transportation. The reduction works will be located just below the main shaft on the mine, so that cars from the mine will run the ore direct from the cage into the ore bins in the mill. The mill will also be conveniently near to the tunnel developments on the south side of the creek, which will enable the management to deliver ore from those works by means of a surface tram.

At a recent meeting of shareholders of the Vindicator Mining Company of Goldfield, says a correspondent, the Salt Lake crowd was entirely eliminated unless Richard L. Colburn, formerly of Salt Lake City is the exception. The new directors are R. W. Griswold, president; Capt. J. B. Menardi, vice president; Hugh H. Brown, treasurer; H. C. Marcus, secretary and R. L. Colbourn. The main office will be moved to Goldfield.

When we take into consideration the condition of our troubled state, the barriers the industrial conditions have created, mining in Ouray county is in a healthy condition, says the Ouray Plaindealer. Our fields have been looked over by many more eastern capitalists with the view of investing than any year heretofore; more projects of gigantic proportions are now under consideration, and only await the settlement of the existing troubles to commence work. We predict the coming year to be one fraught with much prosperity and the opening in our county of a great many good paying mines.

Mining operations are becoming more active on Mineral hill, Cripple Creek, lately, and in one shaft there is every indication that good ore will soon be hoisted. It has all the appearance of a shipper, and the lessees are confident that only a little more development work is necessary to place it on the producing list. The good showing is on the Sun Consolidated group, at the head of First street.

The Ohio group contractors, under the superintendency of Joseph Hemler, are making good progress and expect to have completed their 400-foot crosscut to the vein in about 30 days, says the Ouray Herald. They have about 100 feet to run and will cut the vein about 500 feet in depth where it is confidently expected that a good grade of ore will be encountered.

Lessees Parker and associates, operating a lease on the Mabel M. of the Gold Dollar Consolidated company, located on the east slope of Beacon hill, Cripple Creek, have resumed operations after a temporary closedown.

The sale of the Galty Boy group of mines to a Pennsylvania company will give the proper stimulus to Dry gulch, near Silverton. The Galty Boy is one of the best in San Juan county. The longest tunnel, 1,100 feet, has so well exposed two or three veins of the group that the building of a mill on Cement creek at the mouth of Dry gulch will be among the first improvements for the property by the new company.

The Stratton Cripple Creek Mining and Development Company operating the American Eagles claim on Bull hill have opened up a large body of high grade ore in the bottom of the shaft which is now at a point 60 feet below the 1,500-foot level. The ore is being broken for a width of two to three feet. The ore shows sylvanite in such large quantities that everyone who has seen it is well satisfied that it will prove to be an enormous thing. It also proves the fact that better ore will be obtained at depth. This is probably the deepest shaft in the district that has large quantities of ore at the lowest point.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Tin reacted somewhat in the London market, where it closed at £127 17s 6d for spot and at £128 7s 6d for futures. Locally the market, sympathizing with the foreign weakness, was also lower, closing at $27 75@28 00. Copper was unchanged at £68 5s for both spot and futures in the English market, but was a little firmer here, with lake quoted at $12 75@13 00, electrolytic at $12 75@12 87½ and casting at $12 50@12 62½. Lead was unchanged at £11 15s 3d in London and at $4 20@4 30 in the New York market. Spelter was unchanged in both markets also, the London quotation remaining at £22, while $5 10@5 20 is quoted locaty. Iron closed at 50s 3d in Glasgow and at 43@43½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was unchanged; No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $13 75@14 25, No. 2 foundry northern at $13 25@13 75, No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $13 50@13 75.

WOOD STREET LOT SOLD FOR $50,000

BIG HOUSE SALE REPORTED

The improvement of another prominent Wood street corner is assured as the result of a sale of the property at No. 18, made yesterday through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company. The property belonged to John P. Schaffer, the furnace dealer, and was bought by Augustus J. Hartje of the Hartje Paper Manufacturing Company for $50,000. The lot is 30x90 feet, facing on the east side of Wood street, between Water street and First avenue, and is improved with a four-story brick store building now occupied by the seller. At the price paid the property figures at the rate of $2,500 a front foot, or $41 66 a square foot. This is in marked contrast to the price which Mr. Schaffer paid for the property less than three years ago—$24,000—which was at the rate of $1,200 a front foot, or $20 a square foot, less than half the present figure.

The present occupant, it is understood, will retain possession of the building until next April. Hartje Bros. own the adjoining lot on each side of this property, which gives them a block 70.6x90 feet at the southeast corner of Wood street and First avenue. The leases on the other buildings are so arranged that possession can be secured on short notice. Plans have already been started by Architect Charles Bickel for an eight-story warehouse which will be built on the site next spring, if not before. This will be almost an exact counterpart of the First avenue end of the new warehouse which Hartje Bros. have recently completed. It will make the fourth large warehouse they have built within three years in this immediate neighborhood, all of which are well rented.

Allegheny Sale of $15,000.

Through the office of George T. McDonald 10 lots and three houses belonging to J. T. Thompson, in the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, have been sold to Samuel McWilliams for $15,-000. The lots measure 25x100 feet each, and are in Woodland and Thompson avenues. The houses are 10-room frame dwellings, which rent for from $25 to $35 a month. Mr. McWilliams is a builder and will at once start to improve the vacant frontage with 11 frame houses to cost $5,000 each.

The Real Estate Trust Company has sold for Mrs. Mary J. Murdoch to a well-known local contractor 100x250 feet on the north side of Beacon street, near Wightman street, Twenty-second ward, for $10,000. The lot is in a very choice location and it is expected that two or more high-class houses will be built on the site at once. No part of the city is showing such a decided improvement in building now as Squirrel Hill, and the demand for houses there is increasing at a rate that shows how popular the district is in the minds of well-to-do home buyers.

The sale of the John R. Russell house, on the south side of Bartlett street, near Wightman street, Twenty-second ward, has been closed, the purchase price being $27,000 and the buyer, as announced in The Gazette several days ago, being James Smith, the local steel man. The lot is 80x245 feet and the purchase was made for a home.

The most interesting East End real estate rumor heard for many a day was the story current on the street yesterday that a Twentieth ward residence had been sold for $150,000. The house in question was built only a few years ago and is one of the finest and largest residences in the city. Both the seller and the reputed buyer are out of the city for several days, and the broker, who has an exclusive agency for the property, declined to discuss the deal in any way yesterday.

A very decided change in the tone of the real estate market is manifest this week. Evidently the rush in the fall is later than for months, as brokers are "getting busy" at a rate that gives good promise of some most interesting announcements before long. The reports in circulation and the character of the persons dealing is abundant evidence that confidence in real estate is returning at a rapid rate. Men who two months or four months ago would not invest in real estate now look upon it of any sort are now hunting information about the properties themselves and preparing to close deals that have been pending for a year or more. That there are still good profits to be made in downtown property is forcibly illustrated by the sale yesterday of No. 18 Wood street, on which a profit of $26,000 was realized in less than three years.

Latest Building Projects.

Plans have been prepared by Architect T. Ed Cornelius for a hotel for B. C. Vaughn at Cambridge Springs. The building will be a three-story brick structure 100x180 feet in size, and will be absolutely fireproof. It will contain 130 rooms and will cost approximately $75,000.

The same architect has plans for a three-story brick store and flat building to be erected for C. McCormick in Mill street, Corapolis, at a cost of $18,000.

Architects George S. Orth & Bros. have plans for two brick houses to be built for Thomas Todd in Ellsworth avenue at a cost of $24,000.

A brick addition will be built to the Aspinwall public school house from plans now being prepared by Architect P. C. Sheets.

Architect H. J. Linderman is taking bids on a brick veneered store and flat building at Sharpsburg to cost $15,000.

R. L. Kreusler has the contract for the brick and stone building of the Citizens Savings and Trust Company at Mt. Pleasant, Pa., to cost $80,000.

The Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company has awarded the contract to Marisolt Brothers for a two-story brick office building at Leetsdale to cost $10,000.

BUTTER IS VERY FIRM; PROVISIONS LOOK UP

New Cauliflower Arrives—Corn Goes Much Higher—Plums and Cantaloupes Lower.

The eastern butter market is booming. A large portion of the present limited receipts are being shipped in that direction and indications point to a very firm market on butter here for some time with still higher prices. Representatives of the egg territory who were in the city yesterday reported that the supply of fresh stock is being exhausted very rapidly. Prices, however, are unchanged. Cheese continues firm. Provisions are looking up owing to the present scarcity of hogs and the high prices prevailing on the live stock.

Produce trade was quiet yesterday. Owing to there being no shipment on Sundays, the yards get well cleaned up by the third day in the week. This was especially true yesterday, but there is still more than enough of certain kinds of fruit and vegetables on hand. The plum market is very crowded and Damsons are quoted very low. The first cauliflower of the season came in yesterday and sold in baskets. Cantaloupes are selling away down. Potatoes are still steady, arrivals yesterday being nine cars. Groceries held quiet and steady so far as prices were concerned, yesterday. Cereals are showing rather weak at present. Flour situation is being held down by trading in wheat.

There was a sharp advance on corn yesterday. Prices went away up on ear, which offered on change as high as 65½ cents. But a few days ago this same article was dull. Oats also advanced yesterday. Bran is still dull and the feeding of rye is showing improvement. No. 1 timothy hay is offering at $13 and $13 25, but sales are plentiful at $12 50.

COLD WAVE DRIVES SHORTS TO COVER

As Result, Prices of Both Wheat and Corn Goes Up.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Active covering by shorts as the result of a cold wave in the northwest caused a net advance of 1¾c in the price of both wheat and corn here today. Oats are up ¼c. Provisions show a gain of 22½@32½c.

Reports of general frosts last night, throughout the Dakotas and Western Minnesota, gave a strong start to the wheat market, there being a lively demand with a gain of 1@1⅝c to 1¼@1⅝c at $1 09@1 09½. May was up ⅞@⅞c to 1¼@1⅝c at $1 10¾@1 11¼. Factors that contributed considerable strength were the comparatively small receipts in the northwest, and the exceedingly low grading of the fresh arrivals. The market was affected also by a bulge in corn prices and by the firm tone of foreign grain markets. On the resulting advance there was considerable selling by pit traders, causing a loss of much of the initial gain. December declining to $1 08¾. Meantime May sold off to $1 10¾.

The reaction, however, was only temporary, with bullish reports coming from the northwest and the market at Minneapolis showing a big advance, prices here again started upward. A decrease in total primary receipts and a smaller increase than expected in the world's visible supply were factors that stimulated buying late in the session. The high point of the day was reached at $1 09⅞ for December. May sold up to $1 11⅞@1 12. The market closed streng with December at $1 09½. Final figures on May were at $1 11½@1 11⅝.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 57,900 bu. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreets, increased 1,301,000 bu. Primary receipts were 998,800 bu, compared with 1,073,700 bu. a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 813 cars, against 671 cars last week and 655 cars a year ago.

Predictions that the cold wave in the northwest would swoop down upon the corn fields of Iowa and Nebraska tonight gave shorts a big fright at the opening of the corn market. Traders had not yet entirely recovered from the bullish statements of the two well-known crop experts made yesterday, and this fresh source of anxiety caused a wild scramble for offerings. At the opening bids on the December option were made at an advance of 1¼@2¾c over yesterday's closing figures, the initial price being at 51@53c. After touching 52½c the price gradually eased off a trifle, declining to 50⅝c before the end of the first hour. A dispatch from New York, crediting James A. Hill with a statement that the total yield of corn will not exceed 2,600,000,000 bu., gave the market additional support during the latter part of the day, December again selling around 51¼c.

The market closed decidedly strong with December at 51¾@51⅝c. Local receipts were 535 cars, with 63 of contract grade.

As a result of the strength of corn the oats market held firm at a slight advance in prices. Trading, however, was very quiet. December opened ¼c higher at 32⅜c, sold between 32½c and 32.45c and closed at 32⅜c. Local receipts were 207 cars.

Provisions were strong with the market exhibiting considerable activity. Continued light hog receipts and stronger grain markets were the principal influences. Local packers were the chief buyers. At the close January pork was up 52½c at $13 27½. Lard was up 22½c at $7 20@7 37½. Ribs closed 22½@25c higher at $6 87½@6 90.

HOMEOPATHIC SOCIETY MEETS

Members from Western Pennsylvania Taking Part in the State Convention.

SUBJECTS UNDER DISCUSSION

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

EASTON, PA., Sept. 20.—Members of the State Homeopathic Medical society fill Easton tonight, their annual sessions, which began this morning, being well under way. These physicians came from all over the state, and western members hold prominent places on the program. The society was welcomed to Easton by Dr. E. D. Doolittle, on behalf of the Lehigh Valley Homeopathic society, whose guests it is, and by President Warfield of Lafayette college, on behalf of the citizens. After the response by Vice President Sureth of Philadelphia, the annual address was delivered by Dr. D. C. Kline of Reading, the president. In course of which he referred to the growth in membership the last year, the roll containing something over 450 names. There are 35 applications for membership to be acted upon. Following the address and routine business discussion of topics began.

Gynaecology was the first. Dr. W. Alvah Stewart of Pittsburgh, chairman of the committee in charge of this topic, had for his subject "Gynaecology for the General Practitioner." Dr. Millie J. Chapman of Pittsburgh, who had a paper on "Medical Gynaecology," was among others in discussion. "Pathology and Pathological Anatomy" was the afternoon subject, and it was handled entirely by members from Philadelphia, led by Dr. T. J. Gramm. This evening "Paedology" first occupied the attention of the society. Dr. Anna D. Varner of Wilkinsburg, who is chairman of the committee on this subject, was unable to be here. She sent a paper on diseases of children and their influence on the health of adults. Others speaking on the subject included Dr. E. S. Haines of Rutledge, Dr. F. L. Muth of Wilmerding and Dr. Leon Thurston of Pittsburgh.

Surgery was also discussed. Dr. J. L. Peck of Scranton starting the subject. Among the half dozen speakers were Dr. E. R. Gregg of Pittsburgh, subject "Excision of Elbow Joint," and G. B. Moreland of Pittsburgh, subject "Fissure in Ano."

This afternoon the ladies who accompanied the physicians to Easton were entertained at the Northampton Country club at luncheon, and tonight a large card party in their honor was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Maxwell.

THE THREE RIVERS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 20.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening marked 4.6 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy, sultry, with heavy showers. Today's packet departures were: Levi J. Workum for Madison, Indiana, for Louisville. The river is practically stationary and the fall is almost imperceptible on account of the pools which are formed by the bars along the stream. On account of the low water business is very dull on the river front. There are no boats moving except the packets for Louisville and the light draft towboats. Charles Betten, pilot of the Ben Hur, has been elected truant officer of Vevay, Ind. Lenn Stapleton, former mate of the City of Cincinnati, is now town marshal at Vevay.

HUNTINGTON—River 3 feet 7, stationary. N. L. Thorton down with Vincennes in tow. Guyandotte here to go in Chevalier's trade. Katie Mc. going to Cincinnati. Ed Hornbrook & Co. have sold the wharf boat to the new wharf company.

LOUISVILLE—River stationary. In canal, 2.8, on falls 6 inches, below locks 4 feet. Clear and cooler.

WHEELING—River 18 inches, stationary. No departures. Cloudy, with showers.

PARKERSBURG—River 2.2 and stationary. Weather rainy. The Bessie Smith left at 4 a. m. for Wheeling.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and warm. Columbia down Wednesday and Woodward up.

OIL CITY—River 2 inches and falling. Weather cool and cool.

GALLIPOLIS—River 3 feet 6 inches and stationary. Weather rainy last night. No boats.

MORGANTOWN—River 5 feet 9 inches and stationary. Weather cloudy.

PT. PLEASANT—River 1 foot 3 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and warmer.

STEUBENVILLE—River 18 inches and rising. Weather cloudy and cool.

The marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam showed a stage of 2.2 feet and the river on a stand at 9 o'clock last night.

NO NEW PACKET LINE.

Raising of Fairmont Bridge Will Result in Better Local Service Only.

Since the order came from Washington demanding that the Baltimore & Ohio bridge at Fairmont be raised there has been considerable speculation as to whether it would mean a new packet line from Pittsburgh to Fairmont, to which point the Monongahela is now improved. It was learned yesterday that a large majority of the packet men along the rivers are unanimous in the opinion that such a project would not be a paying venture. They maintain that there would not be enough business above Morgantown to justify having a through line. It is probable, however, that the repairs to the bridge will mean new connections at Morgantown, and possibly may mean a new packet service between Morgantown and Fairmont. It is almost certain, however, that no through line from Pittsburgh will be organized.

The river front was quiet again yesterday. The Cyclone, Delta and Charley Hook, belonging to the River Coal Company, are now plying in the Monongahela, after being tied up all summer.

Capt. Frederick Dippold of the steamer Tom Rees No. 2 and his son, Capt. John M. Dippold, are going down the Kankakee river in a canoe on a fishing trip.

The Columbia departed yesterday for Morgantown, with Capt. I. L. Rene in command and Capt. Robert DeMain at the wheel.

THE OPENING OF REMODELED STORE

Solomon's Big Establishment Has Undergone Extensive Improvements.

THE FALL FASHION REVIEW

Today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are the formal opening days and autumn fashion review at Solomon's store, Smithfield and Diamond streets. All efforts of past seasons are outdone at this elaborate display, and it is an occasion not only of a superb fashion show, but also an introduction to the practically new store, which has been created during the past summer months. All these indicate that the firm of K. Solomon & Co. is more than keeping pace with the march of progress in this city, as the widening of Diamond street and fine new sidewalks at this corner are notable changes, and the magnificent new mahogany show windows in the Solomon establishment make this corner one of the very finest in town.

During the past few months most extensive improvements and alterations have been made in the Solomon building—thousands and thousands of dollars have been recently spent in an entire renovation, making it one of the most up-to-date shopping centers in the country. On entering the main entrance a broad expanse of wide aisles and rearranged departments greet the visitor. A small fortune has been spent here in new shelving, counters, fixings and cases—all in order to take care of the fast increasing business and provide better facilities for prompt service and pleasurable shopping.

On the first floor the greatest changes have been made, with entirely new fixtures, and new locations of departments. Here will also be found a number of novel features, which include a new toilet goods and perfumery department, a complete art embroidery department and the largest notion department in town.

The convenience of their patrons has been the first consideration—on every side—on the first floor, in the spacious aisles are a prominent feature—on the second floor, the roomy and magnificent women's apparel department is one of the sights of the city—on the third floor, the cozy millinery, lingerie and corset sections are inviting in their general attractiveness. Daylight floods every department and vastly increases the satisfaction of buying, while perfect ventilation adds greatly to the comfort of shopping in this store. The new shoe section, with its own entrance direct from Smithfield street, is one of the model shoe stores of the country, and with its shelves filled with up-to-date footwear for men, women and children, at the right prices, it is undoubtedly the most popular shoe department in the city.

The men's departments on the first floor have also been taken care of with a lavish hand, the new hat and furnishing goods sections being among the finest appointed in the country.

Not only is this store a place of handsome new fixtures and furnishings, but it is also the home of entirely new stocks, presenting a wider range of merchandise than we ever before carried. The reputation of Solomon's has been built not only by the high quality of their goods, but also through the variety and splendid selections, and this season surpasses all previous ones in varied assembly and superb assortments which makes satisfactory buying easy.

In the millinery parlors on the third floor the highest art in millinery has truly been attained at this magnificent opening display. It is the most exceptional offering of beautiful hats, designed by the best milliners of Paris, together with a notable collection of charming conceptions from the clever artists at home. There are many exclusive creations to be found here which combine that simplicity and stunning effects in that artistic arrangement which is so rare. In addition to the beautiful pattern hats there is a distinctive and very attractive opening display of ready-to-wear hats and tailor-made hats in colorings and effects to match the smartly tailored gowns of the period.

On the second floor will be held the initial display of women's suits, coats, waists, skirts and furs; also outer garments for girls and misses. On this, the largest floor in the two cities devoted exclusively to women's apparel—and one of the largest in the country—will be found a showing which cannot be described in the limited space here, but should be seen by every woman within reach of the store who wishes to keep in touch with correct fashions. The choicest things that have been produced this season, both in America and abroad, are here—gathered with a lavish hand to please the eyes of the fair sex. In the handsome new windows on Smithfield street there is a display which gives a partial idea of the beautiful modes to be found in the department.

On the second floor are also located the retiring and toilet rooms for women, with all conveniences, telephones, writing desks, etc.

In addition to the above, the lingerie, corset and infants' wear departments are holding their opening, and this all goes to make the largest and most varied assembly of modern merchandise ever presented to the people of Western Pennsylvania.

WANTED BACK PAY BECAUSE HIS SALARY WAS INCREASED

Colored Man from Ohio, Who Is a Government Clerk, Attempted to Impose the Last Straw, and Was Given a Sharp Reply.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Elmer Pettiford, a colored clerk in the treasury department, whose home is in Ohio, is a Seventh Day Adventist who objects to working on Saturdays. Out of respect for his religious convictions, his superior officers have permitted him to be absent from the department on Saturdays, with the understanding that he is to forfeit his 30 days' annual leave and be docked for the other 22 days that he does not work.

This arrangement was satisfactory to Pettiford, who was receiving $900 a year. Recently he was raised to $1,200 a year, and instead of being satisfied with the increase he sent a colored lawyer to acting Secretary Taylor with the claim that all the time he was paid at the rate of $900 he should have been receiving $1,200 and a demand for $300 back pay. In view of the fact that the department is now making concessions to Pettiford that are seldom made to any of the clerks, the proposition of Pettiford's attorney was not received with enthusiasm.

"You go back and tell your client," said Mr. Taylor to the attorney, "that this department is now bending its rules and regulations to the breaking point out of respect for his religious convictions. Furthermore, if we hear any more from Mr. Pettiford in the way of protests there will be a vacancy down in his division and a colored man from Ohio will be out of a job."

ADOLPHE ABRAMOVITZ'S LIFE IS FULL OF THRILLS

His Short History Contains Much of the Romantic and More Is Promised.

If Adolphe Abramovitz tells the truth, Alexander Dumas ought to be run in on a sidetrack, while young Abramovitz, with his wealth of experiences and hairbreadth escapes and adventures, will be a living example of the statement that truth plays first fiddle in fiction's band.

According to Abramovitz, he was born in Metz, Germany, and ran away from home because a stepmother made life unpleasant. He wandered to Paris and took up the study of medicine. He was graduated at Vienna and enlisted as a doctor in the French army. He was sent to Madagascar, and on his return became involved in a duel with a captain of the French army. He perforated the captain seriously and was arrested and sentenced to five years imprisonment.

Despite the careful search of his jailers, Abramovitz, so he says, concealed a large sum of money about his person and succeeded in bribing one of the prison guards, effected a most thrilling escape and made his way to America. In Philadelphia he attempted to pass the examination for a state certificate to practice medicine, but, owing to his inability to speak English, was refused a certificate. He secured a position as assistant to Dr. J. William White of the University of Pennsylvania hospital. He acted, also, as orderly in the hospital for a salary of $18 a month and board.

Next he received word from the German consul he had been left a fortune of $150,000 by an uncle in Germany. Not daring to return on account of that French duel, Abramovitz sent a lawyer after the money and got it. He paid the lawyer $10,000, paid the United States tariff inspectors $15,000 to be allowed to import his wealth, and other expenses to the amount of $7,000, and now has $118,000 deposited to his credit in the Farmers bank, so he says.

Until three weeks ago Abramovitz worked at the Allegheny General hospital. He says he was assistant there to Dr. O. C. Gaub. Dr. Gaub says he does not know the young man, except from having seen him about the hospital, where he worked as an orderly. The only assistance he ever rendered Dr. Gaub was to sweep out and mop the floor of the operating room, and for this service Dr. Gaub is properly grateful. Dr. Gaub did not know he was a graduate of a Vienna university and never saw or heard of his diploma.

Abramovitz states he has been employed by the Japanese minister at Washington to take charge of the Japanese Red Cross work, and that he leaves next Friday for Tokyo, in charge of three other young men, one from Bloomfield, this city, and two from McKeesport.

Abramovitz is 22 years old, he says. It would be interesting to know who he paid that $15,000 to to import his fortune to this country, as the United States puts no import tax on money. That is one thing of which a man may bring a whole shipload to the United States and this country is only too glad to get it. There is a difference between the pauper gold and the pauper goods of Europe. When asked for a light Mr. Abramovitz said he didn't smoke.

IDEAS OF DEMOCRACY ARE WORSE THAN FIRE

Senator Fairbanks Makes Comparison of Horrors Before Audience at Baltimore.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20. — Senator Charles W. Fairbanks was the chief speaker at an immense Republican mass meeting held in this city tonight, the event being the formal opening of the Republican campaign in Maryland. At the Baltimore depot the senator was welcomed by a large and enthusiastic crowd.

In his speech Senator Fairbanks declared the losses of Baltimore in the conflagration of this year were not so large as those sustained by the city during the last Democratic administration as a result of the temporary overthrow of Republican principles. He declared that during the Cleveland administration business in this and other large cities was checked, payrolls were reduced and the wage rate diminished. On the subject of protection he said:

The Republican protective system is an issue in the pending campaign. The Democratic party, true to its traditional policy of hostility to it, has declared protection to be "robbery." Its triumph would be a direct and positive blow to the protective system which has so splendidly vindicated itself. We must believe that the Democratic convention meant what it said, and that it said what it meant. The opposition cannot complain if we accept in good faith the issue tendered by it. What would be the ultimate overthrow of the protective system mean to Baltimore and to the state of Maryland? What would it mean to the vast industrial establishments found throughout the state? What would it mean to the large army of workingmen, who are now engaged at remunerative employment and who walked in idleness during the last Democratic administration?

The overthrow of Republican policies today must bring similar results to those that followed their overthrow in 1892. Strike down the protective system today and we will eat the bread of repentance tomorrow.

Hill to Tour West Virginia.

ELKINS, W. VA., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Henry G. Davis, Democratic vice presidential candidate, will probably go to Wheeling tomorrow to attend the Democratic rally, and from there to Parkersburg and other points down the river. Ex-Senator David B. Hill and Charles A. Towne of New York will tour the state, Mr. Hill spending 10 days.

STEEL FOUNDRIES TO BE REHABILITATED

Probable Change in Directorate to Carry Out the Plans of the Company.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—At the annual meeting of the American Steel Foundries Company, to be held October 4, several important changes in the directorate are looked for. The present management is understood to have planned for the new year an extensive rehabilitation of business, and it is believed that the controlling interests in the company will name a board of directors at the annual meeting, each member of which will be in entire accord with the new plans.

Interests identified with the company are optimistic, however, as to the trade outlook next year. With good general business, they say, the company cannot fail to show good returns, as its plants are in fine shape and its operating efficiency has been brought to a high maximum.

An officer of the company states that it is calling for large tonnage. Its cast steel bolsters have been ordered for 4,000 cars for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system; for 6,000 cars on the Southern railway, and for 2,000 cars on the Louisville & Nashville. In its miscellaneous department orders have increased greatly within the past few weeks, indicating a decided improvement in the freight conditions.

MAIL MATTER CAN BE SENT WITHOUT STAMPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Under an order signed by the postmaster general today, identical pieces of mail matter of the third and fourth class may be mailed without postage stamps affixed thereto. All persons, firms or corporations in order to avail themselves of the new privilege must apply to their postmasters. In all cases, postage on the entire quantity of mail must be paid in money at the time this mail is presented.

WHY NOT SEND A TWO-CENT STAMP AND SAVE HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS?

Wouldn't it be a pretty good investment? If you will send a two-cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, they will mail you a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which has been proven by thousands to be the only immediate, specific cure for Hay Fever and all forms of Catarrh and its kindred affliction—deafness. Easily applied—gives instant relief; give it a trial and be convinced.

For sale by druggists. If not, a full-sized jar will be sent prepaid on receipt of 50 cents. But send for the sample first.

That'll prove the claims of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm.

"I read an advertisement of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm offering to send a sample for a two-cent stamp; I sent for it, but my faith in it was weak. But it did me good from the first application, and after using the balm during the evening, to my surprise I found that I had slept with my mouth closed and was breathing through my nose as freely and naturally as I did when a healthy, romping boy. I had not slept in this manner for fifteen years.

"The balm cured me, months ago, of the malady, which annoyed me for twenty-five years. I now feel like a new man."
